Get Laid In
One Day or Less...

Introduction

Before we can learn to get laid in one day or less.... we must first understand women. Completely understand women. What makes them tick. How they think, why they think the way they do.

Women may not seem to think or operate logically, but they DO operate predictably! That's the key. There are psychological principles and patterns of behavior that will guide most ALL women to one degree or another.

What we need to do is learn these principles so we can get women to think the way we want them to think. A woman's actions will ultimately follow her thoughts. Her imagination is a big part of the key in this. We want to engage her thoughts, her fantasies and her imagination. As she starts to imagine doing all sorts of wonderful things with you, it will seem NATURAL for her to follow through with those thoughts.

First, we need to know how to think. This is a CRITICAL aspect of being successful with women. If your own beliefs and thoughts are not in line, it will be very difficult to be successful with women. The Maximum Seduction course outlines ALL of this in great detail.

After reading the following chapters, you will have a VERY good idea of how to think and how to act and what your beliefs concerning women should be. The better your beliefs, the more the quality of your success. To get laid fast, this is an ESSENTIAL prerequisite!

CHAPTER ONE: Beliefs, Attitudes and Behaviors

As a man in the world of seduction, having power and choice with women and being able to get what you want, there are, of course, many, many elements involved. In its most basic form, I break seduction down into essentially two principle parts; Attitude & Technique.

It is here that I would like to focus on SOME of the elements of attitude, and some of the important elements that go in to creating and having a successful one, which is imperative if you expect to get what you want.

Attitude and technique go hand in hand when it comes to seduction. They are inseparable. You can have the best attitude about life in the world. This alone MIGHT be enough to get you a very small percentage of women, but it will mainly be women who are choosing you, and NOT you choosing them.

On the other hand, you could know every seduction technique known to man, but if your attitude sucks, you will generally get no where. Women sense bad, resentful or "futility" type attitudes and they avoid them.

Attitude and technique are inseparable. And interestingly, there also seems to be a paradoxical component to the attitude/ technique relationship. What I mean is that there is often a certain confusion as to what comes first. Attitude? Or technique? Personally, I have heard it argued both ways. Some will argue that without first knowing WHAT to do, you will never have successes, and therefore, never develop a positive and prolific attitude concerning seduction. There is indeed a valid point to this line of thinking. However, in my opinion, it is the reverse which is true. That attitude should supersede technique.

It is not only my belief, but my experience that when you get yourself into the right attitude by way of changing your belief structure, it allows you to experience the incentive and motivation which will ALLOW you to successfully learn techniques, and learn them with passion, which subsequently will ALLOW you to be able to use them with a great deal of success. Attitude and technique go hand in hand. Always bear that in mind.

Beliefs. What is so important about beliefs? What's important is that our deepest beliefs, the beliefs that we hold as absolutely true at our deepest levels of consciousness, will determine EVERYTHING about our attitudes and behaviors.

Everything that you believe is truly possible for yourself, resides at the deepest core of your value/belief structure.

Bottom line. The fact of the matter is that you are either knowingly or unknowingly CREATING your own results that your experience with women through your beliefs. Now, unfortunately, if you really love pussy, but yet have limiting beliefs that restrain you from what you love, life can indeed be a real living hell.

I know how true this can be because I went through it myself many, many years ago.

Before you can have the kind of success that you truly want, and truly CAN HAVE with women, you must first change your beliefs about what you believe is possible for yourself.

Although this chapter is focused mainly on beliefs and attitudes, which will in turn dictate your behavior, (that of being desirable or undesirable to women), I would also like to center on another aspect of seduction which is equally important, if not more important, than the concept of belief itself.

Ok, lets say, for a moment, that you have mastered ALL the techniques of seduction down to a very fine and predictable science. And further, let's say that your beliefs and attitudes are all pretty much in line the way they should be.

there is another factor here that I believe is worthy of some mention and attention.

The reason I bring up this "X" factor, is because I have SEEN guys who have in fact, mastered seduction and attitudes to a fairly good degree, but yet there is one element that yet holds them back from having the kind of success they really want. I personally believe that, even though they may have most all the CORRECT beliefs about seduction, the beliefs are just not quite "lining up" in the right way to bring it all together with an eloquence and congruity that could give them a seduction power beyond imagination.

What is it you must do once you have mastered all the beliefs and techniques of seduction? You must:

GIVE YOURSELF PERMISSION!

That is a pretty loaded statement, and what does it mean?

Well to put it quite bluntly, you now need to develop some BALLS!

Look, once you know Maximum Seduction and its many techniques, and when you have the useful beliefs integrated into your personality, you need to now realize something which is very, very, VERY important.

Women WANT WHAT YOU HAVE TO OFFER!

Yes, they most certainly do! In fact probably more than you may yet realize.

So many guys, so many times, seem to overlook this very simple but yet VERY real reality. Women WANT what you have to offer them, because you will now know how to offer it to them in EXACTLY the way they want it, and in all the ways they have LONGED to have it.

As far as love, relationships and sex goes, probably NOTHING is more important to a woman than what I have just said. And on YOUR end, when dealing with love, sex and relationships, NOTHING should be more important to you than to realize this crucially important fact!

In fact, it is my personal belief, (once you have indeed become very skilled in the art of sex and seduction), that this is, without question, THE most important belief that you can possibly hold. In fact, most all of the other beliefs, are in one way or another, smaller but vital parts of this one. Women want what you have to offer. Repeat it a thousand times.

For without this realization and understanding, you may still be given to hesitate at the moment of truth. At the all important "window of opportunity and action."

Now, are all women going to be intelligent and adventurous enough to realize just how gratifying and exciting you can make their life? Probably not. But that is very much their loss, not yours. If someone were to try and give me $100K, and I say no, then it is I who am the fool, not the person who tried to provide me the lucre.

CHAPTER TWO: Dealing With Women's Jack-Ass Tests

They say there are two things in life you can be certain of: death and taxes.

Well in seduction, there is at least one thing you can be certain of: women's jack-ass tests.

Ok, so what do I mean by jack-ass tests? These of course are the little "tests" that women like to give you and WILL give you at ANY point in a seduction or even a relationship for that matter, to see if she thinks you are "worthy" of her attention and favor.

Now there has been a lot written by many people about this (including myself), but my real goal in this particularized case is not to give too many details as to all the potential jack-ass tests any woman can give you, but rather to teach you one very... very important and crucial rule.

You may (especially if you are a bit new to the game) find this rule a very bitter pill to swallow. The reason you may find it hard to accept at first, is because it simply goes against our social and/or inborn programming to do what is "right." But if you want to TRULY keep your head well above water, and not just do good but do EXCELLENT in the art of seduction.... you MUST decide that you are going to swallow the pill, no matter how bitter it may first seem. Before I give you this rule, I would first like to share with you two particular events in my life that happened with two different women, but which happened at two very different times.

Why do I pick these particular two? Simple enough. Because one was, for all intents and purposes, the primer. While the other, was simply that one, ever so thin straw that finally broke the camel's back and forever changed my thinking regarding women.

When I was 21, I was staying with a friend up in the northern territory, the "Northwoods." It was one of those small northern towns, the kind where almost everybody knows everybody else. And surrounding these northern towns is nothing but hundreds of square miles of forest, back-county roads and potato fields.

Only a few houses down from my friends place, lived a very hot young chick (we'll call her Janet) who was reportedly one hell of a damn good lay if you should ever be so lucky as to get her in the sack. But there was only one "problem" with Janet; she was very hard to get. What I'm talking about here, is that what Janet needed in order to feel completely and genuinely turned on by and attracted to a guy, was for that guy to be an absolute, 100% complete, utter true to life... JERK!

Now at this point in my life I knew something about "jerk theory." I knew that jerks always seemed to get the girl that every chump wanted. But I, at this point, still wasn't all too keen as to all the dynamics that went into being a successful jerk with women.

I and my friends had actually known about this girl for quite some time, in fact we had spoken with her and some of her friends on several occasions, but none of us had ever boned her as we simply figured it to be a rather impossible task. We simply weren't jerks at heart.

Now things were a bit different. Now I knew that so many chicks WANTED jerks, subconsciously if no consciously, and I knew that with this knowledge, I now had a potential ace to play with this chick. Since I was back in town for about a month, and Janet still lived right down the road, I made up my mind that I was going to give it my best shot. At this point, I asked myself a simple question: "exactly how are you going to go about doing this?"

I guess my subconscious mind gave me the answer that I really knew all the long, but just didn't want to face up until that point.

But the answer came back to me loud and clear. "I am going to be the worst, biggest ASSHOLE I can possibly be to this girl (or ANY person for that matter) BAR NONE!

With that conclusion, I psyched myself for what I would have to do... and do it perfectly.

I didn't start small. I poured it on full strength right from the beginning. Janet often sat on the steps in front of her house talking on her cordless phone. It was easy enough to just walk by a couple times at first and ignore her as though she didn't mean shit, and it was also not uncommon that we had gone over there on occasion just to say "hi", shoot the shit for a bit, and know that we would be leaving. This time was different however.

I went to her house (she is out on the front steps), Slash jeans on, cigarette in my mouth. I walk up to her and the first words out of my mouth are "So what the hell are you up to today." (Very stern and somewhat mono-tone voice). She doesn't act too phased and just says, "not much, what about you?" I totally ignore her question and respond with a disgusted look on my face "Did you wash your hair this morning?!" She responds, "Yeah why?" "Because it looks like total fuckin shit today!" I respond. (The words were echoing through my mind "the BIGGEST asshole you can possibly be").

Janet responds with something like: "oh god, I need to brush it and style it and hairspray it and blah blah blah." Hmmm, interesting response from some girl you've just majorly insulted. I press on, "I think it sure as hell would be a good idea Janet!"

Now Janet seems just a little bit disgusted and upset with me. She says, "I have to go in now, I'll talk to you later." As she walking up the steps I say one final thing, "hey, do your parents got any fucking beer in the fridge, I need one." She doesn't say anything, but she goes in and about 20 seconds later comes out with a beer in her hand and gives it to me. She turns to go back in. I don't say thank you, but only pop the top loudly as she's walking away. I split.

I must admit that right about now, I was having second thoughts. After all. I had been unbelievably harsh with this girl with no provocation whatsoever on her part. But I only knew that if there was a way, that THIS was it. I decided I was going to stick with it until she either got a restraining order on me of some sort... or something cracked, hopefully her pants zipper! I continued this same basic behavior with Janet for about three days, each time making it a little more harsh, and getting the same basic response, only it seemed she was willing to take more of it each time. On the fourth day, some very interesting things happened. I was sitting at home when I found out that Janet had been talking some relatively mild shit about one of my friends. At that moment, for some odd reason, I became VERY upset, I almost flew into a rage!

Interesting thing was... I was NOT acting. This was for real. I went straight to that bitch's house. Yep, there she was on the steps talking on the phone. As I angrily made my way up to her I told her I wanted to talk to her and to hang up the fucking phone. She told me to just hang on a minute and kept talking.

With that I TOOK the phone away from her and hit the hang up button. I could see a pissed off look coming up, but before she could verbally strike, I tied into her with full fury. I told her what she had said about my friend. I called her almost ever vulgar, derogatory name in the book I could think of. I laced into that bitch for around 10 minutes, never letting her get a word in edgewise. At the end, I simply pointed my finger in her face and said "DON'T FUCK WITH MY FRIENDS JANET", and walked off.

As I sat back at home, thinking about what had come over me and what had transpired, I felt certain of really only one thing. For sure I had blown all my chances with Janet... certainly I had taken things way too far in that last round. But what was in that last round was all real, not fake. All the anger and emotion had been real, and it was all focused and unleashed on her. But whatever the case was, I knew the chance was now gone.

About 7:30pm had rolled around, and the friend I was staying with and his girlfriend were getting ready to go to the store to pick up some beers.

Shortly after they had pulled out of the driveway, I was staring at the TV when there was a knock at the door. Knocks at the door were nothing unusual, as there were always people coming and going, but that's how things are when you're 21. I fully expected it to be one of our buddies just stopping by to see what was up, but it wasn't. Of all people... it was Janet.

Even though a lot of the steam had been taken out of me because I had considered the "mission" to be a failure, I knew I could not live with myself if I totally crumbled now. So in only a half-ass friendly sorta voice I asked her what she wanted. She said she just wanted to come over to talk and see what I was doing. I told her to come in and made my way back into the living room as she followed me. I sat on the couch and she sat on the love-seat which was at a 90 degree angle to me. I maintained my half-ass friendly demeanor, but remained distant and aloof. Because of my half-ass attitude, we were naturally having a rather half-ass conversation. Suddenly, out of nowhere, she hit me with it. "Let's get a couple wine-coolers and take a looong drive on the back roads." Now most guys knew that when someone like Janet wanted to take a long drive on the back roads at night, it meant only one thing; that she wanted to FUCK. In fact, as far as I was concerned we were already fucking. We just need to get out to the appropriate spot.

But despite this, I maintained my attitude of being aloof and told her that she would have to give me the money for the wine-coolers. "No problem" she told me. With that, we got into the car, picked up some coolers, and started making our way out of town.

I was smoking a cigarette as we made our way along the country back roads among the dark forest and potato fields. She was sitting close to me with her hand on my arm which was on the center armrest of the bench-seat in my Cutlass Supreme. Janet asked me for a drag off my cigarette and I gave it to her. I was feeling quite pleased with myself, taking this girl that basically no guy had any real chance with and turning it around to the point that I was now on my way to banging her.

In retrospect, I started to look back at what I had done. It almost made me feel sorry for her. She asked for another drag off my cigarette. I obliged. Surely I had really put this girl through Hell, and with no real reason for even doing so, after all, I was no jerk!

She finally asked me for a cigarette of her own. I pulled one out of my pack, lit it up and gave it to her, to pull out and fire up another one of my own.

Now we had been driving for quite a while, I would say close to almost half an hour at this point. But I had not been able to find any damn place to pull off the road which would be inconspicuous from the main road, and no dirt roads to pull down either (usually there is an abundance of them in the back country).

I had been giving her cigarettes this whole time. Now almost an hour of driving had passed (believe it or not) and I was assuring her that we would find a good spot, I was talking calmly and nicely to her, I was giving her cigarettes..... I was supplicating.

When we had the one-sided argument earlier that afternoon, (all mine) I was truly pissed. What she had seen come out of me, was the true character traits of the pure asshole jerk which she subconsciously loved so much. Which she NEEDED to have. Now we had been driving for an hour, I was kissing ass, and we were both getting frustrated (a true jerk would have pulled over at the first convenient spot and nailed her.... road and other cars be damned).

By this time she was sitting far from me, almost right against the passenger side door. About 10 minutes later, I FINALLY found a half-ass road which led down the side of a potato field. I wasn't even quite sure if my car would make it in and back without getting stuck, but at this point I really didn't give a shit. I drove about 500 feet down the road, turned around, killed the lights and shut the car off. The only thing that was on was the stereo that was playing lightly in the background. I pulled out a wine cooler and started to water-tower it.

Janet did not have one. I asked, "aren't you gonna have a cooler?" She said she wasn't because she really just didn't feel like it. I knew it was too late to turn the jerk shit back on, for she had truly seen that I was being very, very, VERY fucking nice to her almost the whole way out.

Since this was pre-seduction times for me, I began using some of the best stuff I had in my "quick-fuck" arsenal. I had been studying NLP and I did know a bit about it, and about getting a persons mind going in the right direction, but it was more hit or miss. I finally got her face close enough, right up to mine that we started kissing a bit.

Then after a minute, I grabbed her ass with my left hand and pulled it around so that she was now straddling my lap facing me. We kissed some more and I already had my hands up her shirt feeling up those two, firm, juicy melon tits. Then, right out of the clear blue, she jump off of me... with a powerful exhale saying, "Oh my god... I am sooo tired tonight."

I'm going to cut this story short here. The fact is, is that I never ended up fucking Janet that night, or any night thereafter, ever. The perfect illusion of being the hard-ass jerk that she loved, had been systematically destroyed in less than one hour's time. And it had been destroyed by my own ignorance of giving Janet the benefit of the doubt that a guy being nice to her (supplicating) might still appeal to her. I was wrong. Dead wrong.

And with that image now destroyed, that fascination and attraction was destroyed as well. But all was not lost and much was gained, because at that moment, I learned what it was all about to be a true jerk, which in the years to come, enabled me to score with dozens more women, where I had not with Janet.

The important thing for you to realize and learn from this more than anything, is that there is not just one Janet, but millions of them walking the Earth. In every country, state and city.

Before I continue with the second incident (which will be more brief than the first), let me give you the rule now. It's really very simple. Never, EVER, give ANY woman the benefit of the doubt, for ANY reason. FULL STOP.

To further drive this point home in your mind, let's examine one more incident that happened to me rather recently.

Enter the year 2000, nine years later.

In this culture, fat chicks, or "discounts", generally know that they dare not have an attitude, because they know that if their ego were to try to write checks that their body can't cash, they're gonna be shit outa luck. Well recently I was speaking with a fat chick on the phone who had to be overweight by at least a good 80 hefty pounds or so (don't ask the details, just know she was a really fat chick, plain and simple).

She got into a debate with me about the whole dating and relationship thing. She also mentioned that she loved sex, but I was not eager to oblige. At some point, the discussion got rather heated (in the negative sense). This damn chick definitely had an attitude.

Then, this fat chick said something to me that I will never forget: "You don't seem to realize that we women are sitting on PURE GOLD, and we can have ANYTHING we want from a guy!!"

Go figure???

Yes. That's exactly what she said to me. Now for me and my thinking, the camel had been overloaded for a very long time.

THIS was simply the last damn straw that broke that poor camel's back. Some fat disgusting chick telling a guy that all women are sitting on "pure gold" and that they can get anything or any guy they want, and actually being serious about it.

How and why does this hold any significance?

It's significant because, if a fat, disgusting chick could think like this, what does that say about the ones which are Hot babes not to mention the super hot babes?

NEVER give any woman the benefit of the doubt. They will pull jack-ass tests on you, or, you could unwittingly make a jack-ass out of yourself. And you CANNOT determine by initial looks or demeanor which women will pull jack-ass tests on you and to what degree.

They will ALL pull them, later if not sooner. And believe it or not, the nice guy is not the only one who gets jack-ass tests pulled on him. The jerks get them just as well. Only difference is, the jerks know how to pass 'em.

You can never give any chick a benefit of a doubt as to what kind of chick she truly is. Be aware that "personality quick-change" is yet another aspect of women pulling shit. Trust me, the way most chicks present themselves initially is often very, very different from what and who they really are and what they're all about.

I have stated before that chicks pull shit tests because they have to (as you will soon read) and I still adhere to that belief. It's truly a chick's only real way of finding out just what kind of guy you are.

The thing is to not let her shit tests screw up YOUR rap. The reason I write this, is because I have become even a bit more aware that women are more insecure today than ever before. And where there is more insecurity, there will be more shit tests. Make and keep yourself ready, and pass them.

CHAPTER THREE: Going After The Beautiful Women

Ok. Let's establish a common denominator for something right off the bat.

What exactly am I talking about when I speak of "beautiful women" or "gorgeous babes," "gorgeous chicks," etc?

What I'm talking about here are chicks of Cindy Crawford type proportions and attributes, or Jennifer Lopez, or Demi Moore in the movie 'Striptease', or WHOEVER your most favorite, lusty chick happens to be. Some of the chicks out of Playboy or Penthouse might also fill the bill too.

Better yet, in the context of this discussion, just think of whatever gorgeous chick is so good to you that you THINK you could never have her. If she's so hot that you THINK you could never have her, that's the kind of chicks we're talking about here and you'll soon discover why your beliefs are incorrect.

Additionally, realize that there are Cindy Crawfords, Jennifer Lopez's, Demi Moores and Playboy and Penthouse models walking around right out there in the everyday world. Only they aren't recognized as such because they've never been in a movie or a magazine.

First things first.

When picking up super hot chicks, there is one rule that applies more than ANY other. BUT, it is the one rule which almost ALL guys have the most difficult time accepting and just simply coming to terms with. It's the kind of stuff you don't want to hear but MUST hear if you EVER expect to get ANYWHERE at all with gorgeous chicks.

And that is this: About 99% of ALL your success or "failure" with beautiful chicks comes down to YOU!!

It comes down to your beliefs, how you think about yourself and women, your attitude, state of mind and your behaviors. It's just that simple. And the fact is, is that if you do not believe me about this right now... there WILL come a time when you ARE going to believe it sooner or later. So wouldn't it be better to just accept it now, and get it the hell out of the way so you can do what it is you want to do? I thought so.

Now, in saying that, let's talk about something here. Do you think that all beautiful chicks in the world are going to be nice, kind, sympathetic towards you, or even fair? Well the very simple and straightforward answer is... HELL NO.

Obviously, not every hot babe you try to PU is going to have the hots for you no matter HOW clever you may be or how much seduction you try to dump into the situation. And even if you COULD seduce some of these chicks, the time and effort expended on your part to do so would be so ridiculous, that you probably could have picked up ten other chicks in the meantime.

Part of being good pickup artist or Seductionist is in knowing how to WEED OUT the chicks who are just going to waste your time, money, effort, etc, and for very little returns if any. HOWEVER, I do know that the MAJORITY of gorgeous chicks CAN be wonderful people if, and ONLY if, you know how to deal with them correctly. But the good news is that this is the biggest 'IF' you'll ever run into when picking up all those stunningly gorgeous babes out there.

When the time comes that you finally get past this "hurdle", your problems with securing and banging some of the hottest chicks that inhabit this earth, will be long, long gone. Although I want to be very thorough and even somewhat "procedural" in this chapter, I don't want to draw things out any more than need be.

So if you can just find a way to accept what I say at face value, and realize that I usually do know exactly what I'm talking about around 99 percent of the time, you'll get one helluva lot more out of all this.

So with that said, let's get on with it.

PART I - YOU

Let me ask you a direct question: What are your beliefs about your ability to pick up or seduce extremely hot chicks? And an even infinitely MORE important question: Deep down, as you think about it now... do you honestly believe that you DESERVE to have hot chicks and all the pleasures that they have to offer?

Seriously think about this for a moment before reading on.....

Let me tell you something guys, this is the starting point. This is the "beginning of time" for you as far as you're concerned. This is THE MOST important question you must come to terms with if you truly expect to ever get the hottest of the hot women.

Do you believe that you DESERVE it? If the answer is no, or even if you HESITATE in answering that question in your own mind, then that means that you in fact do NOT truly believe it on a deep level. And if that's the case, we have to change it, and more importantly, get you to do nothing more than simply... REALIZE THE TRUTH.

And this is going to be our starting point.

This is where we are going to RIP and SHRED and DESTROY those utterly erroneous beliefs that are completely non-useful, and even more, UNTRUE.

As we begin this, I want to give you a particular "model" of understanding much of human behavior, here, most importantly your OWN... but also that of others as well.

When you are in ANY interaction with a gorgeous chick, or chicks, what is predominantly exhibited at the surface are your BEHAVIORS. When I talk about your behaviors, I speak primarily of anything that is conveyed in a relatively physical, tangible manner: The words you speak, the TONE of your words, your body language, your facial expressions, the way you carry yourself and conduct yourself.

These are all examples of your EXTERNAL behaviors, and THIS is what chicks will mainly pick up on first and foremost.

Your behavior around chicks is the first CRUCIAL element... and this is WHY we need to know just HOW and WHY you exhibit the behaviors that you do around gorgeous chicks, or any chick for that matter.

So let's get on to the model:

- 1-
- 2- Beliefs
- 3- Internal thoughts
- 4- Feelings and emotions
- 5- State (or "attitude")
- 6- Behaviors

(Yes '1' was left blank intentionally for now)

Ok, so what do these five items mean?

Succinctly.... Your beliefs about yourself and your abilities, what you can accomplish in life, and what you DESERVE in life are going to DETERMINE what your internal thoughts are.

Your internal thoughts, what you are constantly telling yourself, or picturing on the inside, are going to DETERMINE what you feel and the emotions you experience, be they positive or negative.

Your feelings and emotions are going to DETERMINE your STATE, or, "state of mind." And your state of mind will ultimately determine your ATTITUDE... and your ATTITUDE will finally determine all of your outward behaviors and actions.

So finally we realize... your STATE is going to DETERMINE all of your actions and BEHAVIORS..... and ALL of this comes back to beliefs.

Ok, "so what is item # 1," you ask?

We've all grown up differently. We've all had different parents, different circumstances in our lives and an almost infinite number of other things. And this, all of this in VERY large part has determined number 1: Our self image, or, "Self Concept."

I'm going to go out on a limb here in saying that I truly believe that most of you have been LIED to all your life about certain things. You've been lied to and therefore, in essence, "brain-damaged" as to what the world "should" be, and what YOU "should" be and what you "should" believe.

Now these are all personal issues for all of you and I have no idea of what your particular beliefs are. But since this is all about your beliefs as they relate to WOMEN, we are going to stick only to that. Let me try to do some mind-reading as to what some of your beliefs might be concerning super hot chicks:

- Only rich guys can have hot chicks.
- Only great looking studs get the hot chicks.
- Only superstars or rock-stars get the hot chicks.
- Only true asshole/jerks get the hot chicks.
- Only any of the above mentioned guys deserve to have hot chicks

Now... you REALLY have to follow me here to understand what I'm about to say. These beliefs DO have a certain element of truth to them, we all know this. But they are NOT, I repeat NOT absolute truths. Do you understand the distinction here?

In other words, it is "true" that a filthy rich guy might have an easy time getting hot women, but it is definitely NOT true that ONLY filthy rich guys get the hot women. The key word in all of these statements is "ONLY." But yet... this is indeed how MOST guys tend to think about these beliefs, and is therefore what makes them completely WRONG.

Look at this from a different perspective. It's ALSO true that filthy rich guys can get into car accidents. But it is NOT true that ONLY filthy rich guys can get into car accidents. It's true that great looking studs can be totally inept and sexually impotent. But it's NOT true that ONLY great looking studs can be totally inept and sexually impotent.

Starting to see the light?

The same holds true with all of the rest of these erroneous beliefs and ANY other "ONLY" belief you can think of.

So I'm now going to make some generalizations about some beliefs that you most certainly SHOULD have, and then we're going to help that along by driving these beliefs home.

- Rich guys can have hot chicks.
- You can have hot chicks.
- Great looking studs get the hot chicks.
- You get the hot chicks.
- Superstars or rock-stars get the hot chicks.
- You get the hot chicks.
- True asshole jerks get the hot chicks.
- You get the hot chicks

By looking at it in this way we are simply acknowledging the TOTAL reality of the way things really are.

Let me dispense with the examples and descriptions for a moment and just say something very directly to make a VERY direct and important point. No guy in this world is inherently "more deserving" of banging women more than any other guy. If you find that hot chicks seem to be "going for other guys" more than they are "going" for you... realize that it is ONLY because there is something that these "other guys" are giving chicks which you are not.

And in reality giving these super hot chicks what they want is not as difficult, but probably far EASIER than you realize. This will be covered later in the following section. But back to beliefs. I cannot EMPHASIZE ENOUGH how important it is to realize the truth about things. Especially, to the pickup artist and Seductionist, beliefs about dealing with women!

Now for any of you who have been around NLP for a looong time, you know there is a concept in NLP called "Reframing." For instance, in a typical "content reframe", you might complain to me about how you can't stand the noise that is being made by all the people around you. And in the content reframe, I might change the "meaning" of the noise from something that is irritating to you, to simply meaning that there is noise because so many people care enough to be around you or hang out with you and that the noise is the proof of that. This is a typical content reframe. I've simply changed the MEANING of the noise.

But there are some areas where I drastically differ with the concepts of Reframing. In other words, what many NLP practitioners, and even some seducers call a "reframe"..... I simply call "The Truth!"

Let's take an specific example of this to further explain what I'm talking about.

Quite a while back, Ross Jeffries came up with a really, really good reframe in one of his basic rules. And that was this:

"I never get rejected... I only find out if a woman has good taste."

Nice reframe, isn't it. But I contend that this should NOT be a reframe for you. This should be THE TRUTH for you. It should be the REALITY of the situation. Because if it isn't, why isn't it?

Let's take a more recent example. This also was from Ross and is VERY good: "Whenever I approach a woman, I am giving HER an opportunity to show me what she's all about."

Now, my question is, is this a reframe for you? Or is this REALITY to you? Because if it isn't, it sure as hell ought to be. The fact of the matter is this: if you're any kind of a halfway decent guy...can button a shirt and scramble your own eggs, then this is not merely a reframe. It's called The Truth. And as you know, the truth will set you free.

Before I go further here, there is something I have to say which I don't want to say. But it's important. If you are an INTENTIONAL lazy, fat-ass because you can't break off of the doughnuts, twinkies, junkfood and soda-pop and/or are too damn lazy to keep yourself reasonably fit... then DO NOT expect to get much action from the ultra hot chicks. In this case, you BETTER be a filthy rich and famous superstar because it's the only way you're going to get any action.

If you want hot pussy from ultra hot chicks, then to at least SOME degree, you must take pride in your body and appearance.

Look, you don't have to have the body of Schwarzenegger to get hot chicks, not by far. But most super hot babes will at least expect you to be REASONABLY in shape.

If you have a legit weight problem, get professional help and get it taken care of. Ok, nuff said on that topic.

First, these are the beliefs that I want you to make your reality. Not because your "reframing" things, but because it's true. And if for any damn reason you don't "think" it's true, then DO what you have to in order to MAKE it true.

Truth # 1:

- Being with me is the best possible choice any woman can make.

This is a damn good truth to realize. Because I'll tell you what.. If you DON'T realize it, women sure as hell aren't going to either. Now if this seems like realizing too much of the truth for you right now, you could make it a bit more comfortable for yourself, but ONLY FOR THE TIME BEING, by realizing:

- Being with me is one of the best possible choices most women could make.

Maybe you feel more comfortable realizing only part of the truth for now, until you can accept the FULL truth.

Truth # 2:

- I don't get "rejected", I just find out how good a woman's taste is.

If you're offering a woman GOOD and WONDERFUL things and EMOTIONS and HAPPINESS, and she can't handle you and all the great joy you have to offer her, she's a fool. Eject. (Hopefully she will first)

Truth # 3:

- Whenever I approach any woman, I'm giving her an opportunity to show me what she's truly all about.

I hope you realize by now, that when you find yourself talking to any woman you've just met, you should be REMEMBERING to keep some little mental notes on how well she is performing... and what kind of person she really is. Is she boring and stupid? Or is she halfway intelligent, receptive and playful? When the chick is proving herself to you, don't be TOO overly critical, but remember to keep those mental notes so you'll know if you really want her or not. If you find out she's a really cool and decent chick, do her a little favor by making her feel really really good, and she'll want to do the same for you.

Truth # 4:

- I make no apologies for my desires as a man.

You didn't give yourself the desires you have, did you? No. So who did? Well, your creator I would suppose. You're not responsible. You have your desires which were given to you by someone else when you were born. So don't sweat it. ENJOY the desires that were given to you by someone else and do NOT apologize for them since you had no say in the matter.... and chicks KNOW IT. They'll just think you're awfully weird if you try to hide them for some reason. Even the feminists. Ok, lets move on to some more explanations as to WHY all this is true.

Ross Jeffries came up with a really brilliant realization a while back. It was called 'One Woman, One Vote'

On election day, a gorgeous babe gets the same number of votes as an ugly dog: ONE. Imagine the most deliciously gorgeous babe you've ever seen walking into a voting booth and casting a vote for candidate X. Now imagine the fat, disgusting dog waddling into the same booth and casting an opposite vote for candidate Y, totally canceling out the babe's vote.

Why is this realization important? It's because some guys have this really stupid idea that if some particular chick is too dumb to realize all the joys and pleasures you have to offer her, and she "rejects" you, these guys seem to think that this one single babe has the power to pronounce judgment on their desirability as a man to all women for all time. This is really, really, dumb by the way. Women are MUCH more individualistic as to what they like in a man. One particular gorgeous babe may simply be too stupid or emotionally dead to realize what you have to offer, while the very next gorgeous babe will want to eat you alive.

In fact, it's entirely possible, however unlikely, that the ugly DOG will "reject" you while the gorgeous babe will want to 69 you and have you eat her for breakfast, lunch AND dinner. (One of my personal favorites by the way).

So in short, the way ONE particular super hot babe responds to you will have NO bearing whatsoever on how the next one will! One woman gets to cast one vote and one vote only. So, if for some dumb reason you ever find you're hesitating for more than 3 seconds before you go to talk to a chick.... as you look at her, make an image just over her right shoulder of a voting booth.

See her walking into the booth and casting a vote. Then see a disgusting hog monster ugly girl waddle into the same booth and cast an OPPOSITE vote canceling out the BABE'S vote.... Then say to yourself "One woman, ONE vote!" and feel yourself GOING FOR IT. See how well realizing the truth about things works.

Ok, Sometimes you just have to be very direct and blunt about things to get people to realize stuff. remember, every gorgeous chick and every hot babe shits and pisses just like everyone else. And their shit smells, just like everyone else's. And when they're on the rag, they get stains in their panties.

And when they get sick, they throw up all over the floor or table or in their lap. And when they get a chest-cold, they hack up that green, yellowish-brown slimy stuff. And if they don't brush their teeth and use mouthwash their breath stinks. If they don't do their hair all up, it's usually flatter than shit.

If they don't apply their makeup, they can look a bit plain. Did you realize all this about gorgeous chicks? Hehe :)

What I'm trying to get you to do is to simply REALIZE that all chicks are just human beings, just like you and I, and they DO have their flaws.

Remember. We still love them anyway. We just realize the truth.

The bottom line is that your OWN self-concept and beliefs will ultimately determine what is possible as far as your ability to go out, pick up, and nail and scale hot chicks. As you begin to BELIEVE the concepts I have told you as TRUTH, you'll almost automatically find yourself doing WHATEVER IS NECESSARY to eventually get yourself into the proper circumstances, learning all you need to know and getting yourself in the right STATE to pick up/seduce hot chicks.

PART II - WOMEN

So now that I've gotten you to realize the truth about gorgeous women, and the fact that you deserve them, we need to learn some ways to interact with them so that they will realize just how true this really is and really WANT you to make them feel good when they find out all the wonderful things you have to offer so that they can make YOU feel just as good in return..... even BETTER. But what are your beliefs about women? Ultra hot chicks in particular?

What I'm asking here has NOTHING to do with whether or not you believe you can get them right now. For example, do you think that SHBs are worth having? Do you believe they are generally nice? Do you believe they are misunderstood by most guys? Do you believe they are all evil? Do you believe most of them REALLY DO want a guy who knows how to truly ignite all of their inner most desires and emotions? Do you believe they play too many games?

THESE are the kind of things I'm talking about when I ask you what you believe about women. Because JUST as your beliefs about yourself will determine your degree of success with super hot babes... so in part will your beliefs about THEM.

For instance... if you thoroughly believe that all hot chicks are just sluts and all "evil" sluts to boot... I can guarantee you... this belief and attitude WILL NOT get you very far with them. In fact it will probably get you no place at all. Well you know what the truth is? The truth is that some ARE.... and some AREN'T. This is why seducers and pickup artists are SELECTIVE about the chicks they pick up, and go through the all important WEEDING OUT process.

Our understandings of the world are subjective. We do not see reality the way it "really" is, but, the way we BELIEVE it to be.

"A number of people in the history of civilization have made this point - that there is an irreducible difference between the world and our experience of it. We as human beings do not operate directly on the world. Each of us creates a representation of the world in which we live, that is, we create a map or model which we use to generate our behavior. Our representation of the world determines to a large degree what our experience of the world will be, how we will perceive the world, what choices we will see available to us as we live in the world."

"No two human beings have exactly the same experiences. The model that we create to guide us in the world is based in part upon our experiences. Each of us may, then, create a different model of the world we share and thus come to live in a somewhat different reality."

So what is all this saying? Basically, it means that if you BELIEVE all chicks to be "evil sluts".... then all you will ever see and encounter when it comes to women, will be evil sluts.

It goes without saying that this also holds true for almost ANY belief you can have about women. There is also an interesting dynamic that sometimes takes place when you harbor negative beliefs about chicks. For example, if you believe for certain that a chick you are interacting with is definitely a bitch, then this belief will "radiate" from you to her and she WILL do her best to be a bitch towards you.

My point, very plainly, is this: If you harbor and dwell on negative beliefs and feelings towards hot chicks, ultimately you are only hurting yourself and your success in the end. REGARDLESS of what may be true about SOME chicks, you simply CANNOT afford the luxury of negative thoughts and feelings when it comes to seduction.

Now, I am definitely NOT saying that you should let ANY chick walk all over you, or let her pull shit. This is an ENTIRELY different subject. What I am talking about here, is the STATE OF MIND that you bring into ANY seduction situation with a chick. And since your state of mind is ultimately determined by your beliefs, you must be MINDFUL of exactly what those beliefs are. A chick will take a very, VERY dim view of a guy who thinks all women are just useless "sluts" and "cunts."

Now, Try to Bear with me on this next statement....

But, EVEN IF IT WERE TRUE that most women were “sluts” and “cunts,” chicks STILL DON'T WANT YOU TO ACKNOWLEDGE THIS. Yes, it's a bit of an oxymoron and even more, just plain bullshit. But this is the way it is guys. It's only to YOUR advantage to accept this kind of stuff for what it is and let it work FOR you rather than AGAINST you.

Ok, so what do I believe about all this. I believe that MOST hot chicks are, or at least CAN BE, very decent people if and when they want to be. Remember, ultra hot chicks usually live very twisted and confusing lives. Hardly ANYONE, especially guys, treat them like a plain old human being. They're usually either drooling all over them trying to get in their pants... or being incredibly vicious towards them because they know they'll never get their hands on them.

But remember also, that deep, deep down inside, super hot chicks generally have the EXACT SAME hopes, dreams and desires as any other average chick. Ultra gorgeous babes are almost CONSTANTLY being hit on by every chump you can imagine. Everywhere they go, anything they do, chumps are there, kissing their ass hoping to get lucky. On the flip side, you have the chumps who know they will NEVER get these kind of chicks, so they be as RUDE as they can possibly be to them in attempts to make them feel like shit. Is it any wonder that most hot chicks put up "bitch shields?"

Alright, let's move on to some beliefs that you SHOULD have about these damn fine babes. And remember, these beliefs also happen to be "TRUE."

Truth # 1:

- Hot chicks WANT to be seduced by you, but they want to be seduced in the RIGHT WAY.

Another possible variation of this truth is:

- Hot chicks WANT to be seduced by you, they just don't know how.

Obviously, this is saying that hot chicks WANT to be seduced. It is ALSO saying that some KNOW how they want it to happen, and any guy who can press the right buttons, gets their goods. On the other hand, many chicks really have NO IDEA of exactly what it might take to seduce them. But fear not, there is no problem here. In EITHER case the strategy is almost exactly the same, as we shall see later.

Truth # 2:

- There are two parts to every chick. The part of her which pressures her to be socially correct.... and the part of her that wants ALL of her deepest (and naughtiest) desires and fantasies fulfilled.

This is pretty straightforward and easy to understand. I know of very few chicks that actually WANT to be thought of as a "slut." Society dictates that they must be proper ladies, and that only a self-centered person, or whore, would actually ENGAGE in the act of truly fulfilling her deepest fantasies and desires. In my experience, "liberated" chicks don't seem to have much of a problem seeking to satisfy their fantasies :) But even the most RESERVED chicks STILL have their desires and fantasies.

They just need someone to fulfill them, and show them HOW to fulfill them without having to feel guilty about it.

As most of the pickup artists and Seductionists know, probably the single MOST important understanding you can ever have about women, is that they are almost COMPLETELY and TOTALLY emotionally-driven creatures. No, chicks will NEVER admit this to you or anyone else, primarily because THEY don't even fully realize it themselves.... but chicks use VERY little logic or actual honest-to-goodness REASON in the vast majority of their decision making.

Chicks RUN on emotion the way cars run on gasoline. No emotion... no drive... nothing happens. Can guys be emotionally influenced also? Certainly. Why do you buy the 2001 Corvette over the Ford Escort? Cool car... lots of power... sleek... good feelings.

Well. When it come to WOMEN and emotional impact, multiply this kind of response by a factor of about 20. (And not about the car either). Chicks are a bit different in the way they experience, and want to experience feelings and emotions. This is not something that is always easily explained in precise detail though. But not impossible. However, THIS, right here, exactly what you are reading right now, is THE reason why you so many times hear the old, old saying, "I don't think I'll ever figure women out."

Women's emotional processes can indeed be so utterly chaotic sometimes, that it can give the APPEARANCE of them being impossible to figure out. But fortunately, there is some predictability to the unpredictability.

Women do not operate very logically, in the traditional sense. But most women DO operate predictably, IF you've done your homework!

But realize that even the BEST seducers get taken aback from time to time from a certain female behavior that just seems to come out of nowhere. It's a little like trying to learn a program that has been designed to generate relatively simple random numbers. At first, it may take some time to get the pattern establish by watching the numbers which are being generated for a long time. Eventually you'll pretty well be able to predict what the next number will be. But on occasion, the program will still surprise you. Anyone (Besides God) who tells you that chicks are absolutely 100% predictable ALL of the time, is lying to you.

However, I do know some damn good pickup artists who are probably operating in the 90 percentile range.... and that's pretty damn good.

Realize first and foremost, that if there is ANY one key to seducing and getting into the minds of chicks, it is their EMOTIONS. If you can genuinely "manipulate" and control a woman's emotions, she is ALL YOURS. Period. End of Story!
BUT.... here's the VERY important catch to this....

A woman will NOT allow her emotions to be controlled by just ANY and all guys. Remember this.

Before you can sway and work any woman's emotions, you MUST FIRST make an impression on her and FIND a DOORWAY into her mind. Until you can find that initial doorway into a woman's mind, you simply will NOT be readily able to influence her romantically or sexually. Before you can effectively influence a woman romantically and/or sexually... she must first SEE you as someone who is "worthy" or "suitable" to be SLOTTED into the position of potential boyfriend/lover in HER mind.

THIS INITIAL, ALL IMPORTANT FIRST STEP IS USUALLY WHERE MOST GUYS SCREW IT UP, OR JUST PLAIN DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO!

In fact, many guys MIGHT actually make good lovers/sex partners if they could just master this initial skill. And if there is any one thing truly "difficult" about seduction, I think it would be fairly accurate to say that THIS is it.

What I'm basically giving you here, is what goes on BEHIND the scenes in a woman's mind when you set about to meet and seduce her. Flow with me on this here. To be effective in getting into a woman's mind... you must be seen as something of a slight "authority" to her. NOT as in the sense of a dictator, but as someone is somehow "above" her... or able to "master" her as a woman. Now in practice, most often all of this takes place in a VERY subtle manner. Sometimes it may NOT always be so subtle, as in the case with the jerk.

But the important thing to get out of all this, is that this MUST happen to at least one degree or another BEFORE any woman will take you SERIOUSLY... consider you as boyfriend material... and listen to what you have to say. I'm getting a bit ahead of myself here.

Number 1, your BELIEFS about chicks, and number 2, understanding how they THINK...are the two most important things to get a firm understanding of initially. This is why I am constantly telling guys to read magazines like Cosmopolitan or Glamour written BY women FOR woman, rather than reading stuff like Maxim which is written primarily by a bunch of guys who THINK they know women.

Truth # 3:

- If I can find that PROPER doorway into a woman's mind, I will in all likelihood, be able to seduce her easily.

Remember, chicks WANT to be seduced. But they want to be seduced in the RIGHT WAY. In other words, in a way that feels good and right to THEM. And probably the most IMPORTANT thing to all of that, is the initial doorway thing we've talked about.

Let me put this another way. If you get in that doorway, a woman will let herself be seduced by you, indeed, she will WANT to be seduce by you. And she will offer VERY LITTLE IF ANY RESISTANCE!

We've talked about quite a bit in this section. Concerning the gorgeous women, as I've said earlier, they have basically the same hopes, dreams and desires as any average female. But make no mistake. They are a "special" breed and must be "handled with care" in just the right way to turn them into a warm and willing sex partner.

CHAPTER FOUR: Denying Her Affirmations

Negs (strategic compliments plus “insults”) are good. They can be HIGHLY effective in breaking down bitch shields. I've used Negs with a good deal of success.

When I started to analyze the whole concept behind the Neg, I knew it was good, and I wanted to find a way to make it even MORE effective, even MORE powerful. This wasn't all too hard. I went back and analyzed the general two pronged success formula which was first openly stated by Ross.

- 1...Make yourself a challenge
- 2...Structure Opportunities!

So as I began thinking about this time tested success formula and applying it to Neg theory, I just came to a simple realization. And that is that Negs, excellent though they are ... inherently only fulfill ONE HALF of the overall success formula. Negs will most definitely make you a CHALLENGE to ANY hot babe. But it really doesn't structure in the 2nd important OPPORTUNITY element.

A concept that is in the same family as the Neg and which I have been using with VERY good results in many cases, is what I call the Denial Of Affirmation approach. Or simply, DOA (Ha! Nice parallel right). More specifically though, a [Progressive]-Denial Of Affirmation. Just think of some other terms too like 'symbiotic' or 'interactive' Denial of Affirmation... but we don't want to get the name too ridiculously long, just as long as you understand the concept which I'm going to explain.

In a Denial Of Affirmation approach, you are not only NEGGING a chick (strategically complimenting her and then “insulting” her)... you are also opening up an OPPORTUNITY for her that will be specifically linked to YOU.

In DOAing, you are first going to make a bland reference to something about the chick's characteristics, then you are going to “INSULT” her on this characteristic in a completely nonchalant way, as if you don't realize what you said was offensive (the dumb act) then you are going to offer some very INTERESTING and APPEALING advice on how she could make this "flaw" better.

That last part is the KEY to the successful DOA!

Ok, some first things first. The reason this is technically called a PROGRESSIVE or INTERACTIVE Denial Of Affirmation, is because you are going to be the one who "creates" the problem (also an effective Neg) and then you are going to become the "source" of "fixing" that problem.

Hot babes, of course, often like to think they are perfect. They get CONSTANT affirmation of this by EVERY chump they come into contact with throughout the day. YOU are first DENYING her this affirmation that her mind subconsciously has developed an ADDICTION to in order for it to function properly.

That right there sets you APART from about 99% of most guys. You have now become a challenge. Step 1 in done. Now we have to structure the opportunity, and we need to make it SPECIFIC TO YOU!

Now you're going to give her a way out, an escape from the "problem" you have created for her mind. Ok, first off, whenever you are finding a certain characteristic about a chick that you are about to run into the ground, be sure that you pick something about here that she can CHANGE!

Nothing permanent like the shape of her nose or the size of her breasts. Personally I usually go for the chick's make-up scheme. But you could go for clothing style, hair style, or other similar things as well. This might be one example of a DOA:

After some bullshit introduction and about a minute of small talk....

Me: "What's with the way you apply your lipstick like that?"

Her: "What do you mean?"

Me: "Well it doesn't look all that great the way you do it [in fact it looks like shit]... I mean, it could sure look a hell of a lot BETTER!"

Her: "Well what's so wrong with it!!"

Me: "Well, I know it could look WAY better ... have you ever thought about trying to do it [X] way?"

Her: "No, but do you really think so?"

Me: "Of course, it makes a girl look sooo much hotter"

[Proceed to describe X in detail, give her just enough but without giving away the store]

Now what have you done here? You Denied the Affirmation that she NEEDS, made her realize that she isn't living up to your standards, made yourself a challenge, AND, established yourself as an AUTHORITY on what REALLY makes chicks HOT.

Since you have now become a sort of "pseudo-authority" to her she is now looking to YOU for some answers. You have now somewhat subtly structured the OPPORTUNITY for her, that if she pleases YOU, she will continue to please all other guys (mostly chumps) as well. But YOU have now become the KEY determinant in her mind! (Haha!)

Now, THIS is where the 'progressive' part comes in. It's progressive because you are NEVER going to let this cycle end. You are going to draw it out and draw it out, with more DOA's. Whenever she fixes one "problem", you are going to make a reluctant statement that it now "looks ok but But with the style of clothes you are wearing, it just doesn't all fit together quite right." And on and on the cycle goes, until finally, eventually, the chick just wants to SLEEP with you to prove how great she really is (believe me, it happens, a lot!)

Now, one word of advice here. If you want to use the Progressive DOA approach successfully, you better damn sure know a lot about what women almost INHERENTLY know a lot about. That is, make-up techniques, clothing styles, hair styles, etc. Fortunately this is easy to do. Just faithfully study magazines such as Cosmopolitan, Glamour, etc. You'll know everything those women know in no time, and more. And it doesn't always have to be something you read out of a magazine.

Maybe it's just something you've seen before and really like. For example, the way most Latina chicks outline their lipstick with a darker (or sometimes lighter) color, and then blend it a bit. It makes my tool hard when I see those kind of lips and think about them being wrapped around it. So this is one personal thing that I "educate" women about, which will make them "sooo" much better.

So the formula to a successful DOA approach might go something like this:

Astute observation and comment + strategic "insult" and problem creation + the FIX for that problem = DOA

That's all there is to it folks. Remember, the key is to set yourself up as an AUTHORITY in her mind, someone who knows what he's talking about, and someone she will feel compelled to want to please. Because in pleasing YOU ... she is ALSO pleasing everybody else, which is of PARAMOUNT importance in her life.

The nice thing about the DOA, it that it is, in a sense, almost a complete strategy in itself. It can all be executed in one fell swoop. Now depending on how hardcore the woman is, you will have to try to make a determination as to just how much of a Neg to DOA ratio you will use. The classic neg always starts with the compliment followed by the "dumb insult." In it's purest form, there is little complimenting in the art of DOAing. However, there is no rule that say you cannot start out with the compliment, THEN the Neg, and then the FIX which YOU can provide.

One strategy might be to initiate the simple Neg as step 1, and after she has dropped the bitch-shield somewhat, and your foot is in the door, then fire off the DOA. Generally speaking the DOA is reserved for the most hardcore of Super hot babes. (Why do you think I wanted to develop it? ;)

But it CAN be just as effective on not-so-super hot babes. The trick is that you want to come across as stern, like you are a bit disappointed that she was so dumb as to do something to make herself look so "terrible" when she COULD have made herself look so GOOD. (Ha!) But NOT to come across as malicious, like you've got an axe to grind. Be friendly, but be serious and a bit poker faced at the appropriate times. As in all things, FEEL the situation out, and keep adjusting to the feedback. Get this one down, and the super hot babes will be in your back pocket.

Remember the formula:

Astute observation and comment + strategic insult and problem creation + the FIX for that problem = DOA

Keep the cycle going.

Think of some more ways in which this can be applied.
Enjoy the wonders.

CHAPTER FIVE: Overcoming Women's Resistance

"It's possible to look at seduction in two different ways."

"Never resist what a woman offers, always use it to your advantage. What you resist persists, what you accept you gain power to use."

"One only need talk to a chick in the right way to secure a seductive result" AH1 - Rob J. April, 2001

A while back, shortly after I started studying NLP and Seduction, it occurred to me that it's possible to look at the act of persuading a chick to sleep with you in two (almost) totally different ways.

1) The 'Move Towards' strategy or mindset. In this way, you are seeing your seduction efforts as all aimed at getting the chick "excited" enough to eventually want, maybe even NEED, to sleep with you.. she wants you so badly.

2) The 'Move Away From' strategy or mindset. Here you make the assumption that ALL chicks would want to sleep with you if you are simply good enough to "remove" any resistance she may have to doing so.

First, what would stop ANY chick from wanting to get the bone from you?

Really take a moment to think about this... Yes, personal issues come into play like, "is he my type, is he good looking enough, does he have enough money, etc." But when you think about this on a more global level, you naturally see that it STILL obviously falls under the category of resistance. It is not the mere lack of these attributes that causes the resistance per se, but rather the VOID or LACK of excitement and/or emotion that not having these attributes causes.

Although seduction should really be viewed as a balance between the two, for the purpose of THIS chapter, we're going to look at it only from the perspective a way #2, overcoming resistance.

A straightforward, albeit extreme, example:

WHY doesn't the hottest, most popular chick in high school (or college) screw the living daylights out of the biggest computer-nerd in her school?

Now, we are so conditioned, and this is such a stereotype, that you probably THINK you know the exact answer, and maybe you do to a certain degree, but let's dissect it anyway just for kicks and giggles.

-Popularity and social conditioning/status. "HotBabe-HighSchool" (HBHS) can't screw the Computer Nerd (CN) because it would ruin her social standing in the eyes of her peers. She wants to AVOID that as to RETAIN her social standing. This, by the way, might be the BIGGEST reason.

-The CN may not be unattractive, but at his current level, there is simply nothing about him that excites HBHS. She sees him as probably dull and unexciting. Just a general non-turn-on.

-Her mother pounded it into her head that if she too easily slept with anybody, nerd OR jock, she would be a worthless slut and feel terrible about herself and be forever tainted on and on....

Let's just stop with these (although there could easily be others).

The question is, WHAT really are all of these thoughts? These "reasons?" What they are, are RATIONALIZATIONS in the chicks mind that "tell" her she can't sleep with this guy. The thoughts CREATE "resistance." And it IS resistance, for if the CN were to come up to her and ask her back to his place, she would surely RESIST the idea and the proposal in such a manner as saying "no" or maybe even "hell no." If the chick were suddenly struck by a magic spell from the fairy godmother which forced her to tell the truth and the WHOLE truth, and she were asked WHY, she would surely spit out some of the reasons I listed above.

Let's dissect it just a bit further, (don't worry I'm going somewhere with all of this). Notice out of the reasons above, only one, the SECOND one, is an apparent matter of "lack", or something not being there which needs to be there. In other words, it is simply a VOID, whereas the first and third reason are: situations in which "negative" results/information has been put in or WILL be put in as a consequence. Interesting, don't you think?

What ALL of these reasons have in common, is that they all CREATE RESISTANCE on one level or another. You might say she is perfectly and physically CAPABLE of screwing the guy (is she not?), she just RESISTS screwing the guy for her own rationalizations:

"I can't screw the guy because...."

Now let's think about something even more interesting. Let's say that a "miracle" happens; the CN joins the football team, makes himself look presentable every- day and learns how to completely turn chicks on with his language and find out their most hidden desires and inhibitions. What happens to this guy in respect to HBHS? EVERY one of her rationalizations for not wanting to sleep with him have been effectively ANNIHILATED. Those things which caused resistance, whether by lack of positive or excess of negative, will now no longer exist.

He is no longer seen as a nerd, he now knows how to turn her on emotionally and will be able to "bypass" the bad suggestion implanted by her mother. In my opinion, in the "resistance" model, this is what seduction is all about: OVERCOMING RESISTANCE.

You might have a heart attack if you knew how many chicks you walk past everyday that would probably LOVE to bang you, if only you could approach them and overcome all of their resistance to doing so. Think about it.

To get to a more pragmatic level, this is what a great deal of chick-logic and ALL of the Female Interruption Mechanism is all about. Once we turn a chick on by totally and completely "lighting her neurology," we need only clear away the small, residual pieces of resistance, usually the LAST and final step in the successful seduction.

When the chick is turned on and ready, we need only eliminate any lingering resistance (if any) to getting the bone. Resistance, and the rationalizations for it, come in all different forms. And to get a better understanding of how to overcome it, let's use the analogy of sales. The best salespeople KNOW that the magic is NOT just in the close, but rather in EVERY aspect of the sales presentation. You cannot make a crappy presentation and expect to close the deal like a champ. It very rarely, if ever, happens.

KNOWING THIS is the first step in knowing how to overcome a chick's resistance to screwing you silly. As a very good rule, if your ENTIRE presentation is excellent and structured in such a way that the chick READILY and EASILY accepts... your closing will be EASILY accomplished. The best way to overcome resistance is to STOP it before it ever happens.

It takes a sharp listener and an astute seducer to see and hear all of the sometimes subtle information that a chick will offer you as "cues" as to what you would have to do to seduce her, or more specifically, eliminate her resistance to waxing your wang. It is my belief that when you're dealing with a chick properly and really getting her hot for your hardon, there is some VERY specific point where all of the "neurons" (or whatever) in a chick's brain ALL line up and say "YES! I am going to screw this guy!" The decision may be rather unconscious to her, but she feels the irresistible urge to go down on your dong all the same. It is at THIS point, after ALL of your seduction effort, that you are simply in like Flynn.

Just READ Instructions:

- 1- Remove Clothes.
- 2- screw! 69! Doggy! etc!

As we've seen that Overcoming Resistance (moving away from) is simply the same as Getting The Chick Excited and making a good presentation (moving towards) you can now easily realize where the real key to overcoming this resistance is, as is what this whole post was meant to make you aware of.

And alas, there is always that possibility of TRUE last-second resistance, when you're getting ready to sheath the shlong and the girl says "I don't know if we should be doing this!" And you say?....
"You know, you're right..." negation, negation, negation....

Last-second resistance is trivial and something to laughed at (only do it now so you won't in front of her). She is just LOOKING for the SLIGHTEST excuse to justify banging you. Tell her it's all your fault because you had a drink two days ago and you "made" her do it. That'll be enough for her at that point. ;)

CHAPTER SIX: Seduction Goals And Time Frames

From time to time I've seen this come up. Guys seem to wonder (even if they don't speak of it openly) how many chicks they should be able to screw in any given time period with respect to their current knowledge and level of skill.

Like they should be able to screw 10 chicks a year, or 20 or 50 or whatever. But personally, I have found this to NOT be an effective or particularly useful way of "measuring" your sexual success. But yet this is the way most guys go about it.

The problem with this way of looking at things, is it can cause you to all too easily set up unrealistic goals and quantities and time frames. I'm speaking from experience here. If you set a "quota" for yourself, and then don't or can't meet that quota, you simply set yourself up for disappointment.

Here's a better way. Instead of looking at it as "how many chicks can I screw in a given time frame", REVERSE the process. In other words, time to quantity rather than quantity to time. Let me get more specific here. Set up your Screw-goals something like this. Tell yourself that like in 1 one week you should be able to screw one chick.

Design a specific TIME FRAME goal for yourself. I don't care what it is. It can be a month, a week or even a DAY. The point is that the QUANTITY (ONE chick) always remains constant, and you just keep shortening the TIME FRAME in which you realistically expect you should be able to find and screw one chick (prostitutes don't count dude).

You can set your time frame at whatever you want depending on what you truly BELIEVE to be realistic for yourself at this point. I personally set mine at 1 day (i.e a 24 hour period, obviously), based on what I have been able to accomplish in the past when I put my mind to it. Now, can I ALWAYS accomplish this goal? No. Not always. But it is realistic and most of the time I can WHEN I just set my mind to it.

Sometimes a guy just needs a hot body, an arched in back and a backed up pussy to slam into when he feels like it. Hence, the working towards the 24 hour goal. That is your ULTIMATE goal. And if the time turns out to be less, all the better, just as long as there is a standard.

We all get pleasantly surprised sometimes, like when we wind up in a 4sum with 3 chicks when we didn't even plan on it.

This way of setting my “sex-goals” has worked well for me. It doesn't put you under the same kind of pressure as the quantity to time sex-frame and it seems to be much easier to calibrate yourself to. I would personally suggest that EVERY guy work toward the 24/1 method (1 chick within 24 hours).

This does not mean you HAVE to do this each and every day, or that you have to start out at 24 hours. It only means that you know you'll have pussy WHEN you want it, and I know it's just a truly better and more relaxing mindset to have. Try it on and see how it fits.

CHAPTER SEVEN: The Fine Art of Non-Supplication Revealed

What I personally do, it try to look for the trouble spots, the points where there seems to be a degree a legitimate confusion or misunderstanding, and correct those misunderstandings to the best of my ability. And now, I want to clear up some thing about "supplication."

Ok, this is really very simply. First of all, not supplicating to a woman simply means that you make the conscious choice that you are not going to beg or grovel to a woman for sex, ever.

But why do we focus so much on this crazy "non-supplication" thing so much in the first place. In other words... what's wrong with begging or groveling for sex if it gets you sex?

The truth is, is that in VERY large part, non-supplication is more about YOUR OWN SELF-RESPECT than it is about anything else. And probably the biggest part of self-respect is simply what you are willing to say "no" to! Let me give you a hypothetical situation. Say that by begging hot babe for a period of 1 week to have sex with you, that you could accomplish that goal and she ends up banging you. Would you call it a triumph? And understand that I make NO assumptions here at all... Would you call it a triumph?

Some men would. And only from personal experience can I say that most true seducers and pickup artists would not.

In truth, some men do indeed adopt the simple philosophy of "Have sex with women by any means." This includes supplication, the whole begging and groveling routine. But the truth is this: Most, and I emphasize, most women will NOT want to have sex with you if you are the supplicating type of male.

If she DOES give you sex because of your persistent begging for it, you can pretty much bet the farm that it is and was ONLY a MERCY fuck, and in most all cases, it will be the first and LAST time she ever bangs you, if she bangs you at all! What we are talking about here is RESPECT. Respect both on the part of the woman, AND, on YOUR part as it relates to your own self-respect. Women simply just DO NOT like the thought of having sex with a man that they cannot or do not respect. It is just one of those kind of things that sorta makes their skin crawl. It grosses them out. It makes their stomach turn. Can I make it any plainer?

Why would a man not supplicate to a woman? Well to really take all of the ambiguity out of this and make it very clear and understandable, we need to look at the life of a hypothetical guy I know. We'll call this guy Bruce.

Bruce is the kind of guy that has women calling him constantly. Women are always coming to his house. He has the option of getting laid on almost any night of the week he chooses, and has a choice of almost a dozen different hot babes to choose from at any one time. Further, Bruce is constantly replenishing his supply of women. So there is never a time when he has less than about five or six to have sex with. So in short, Bruce can EASILY get sex at almost any time he chooses from a rather vast harem of chicks that he knows who are always more than eager to have sex with him.

Now, the important thing here is NOT how Bruce came to be in this very pleasant state of affairs. That is a matter for another discussion. But simply realize that he IS there. Now we are going to change the scenario a bit. Now YOU have become Bruce. Step into Bruce and his life and feel what that would feel like. You know that Bruce has MANY options for sex at ANY time he chooses with a very large variety of women. And since you are now Bruce, it is YOU who has these options. Make this experience real in your mind. Imagine exactly what that would be like for you as it becomes the reality of your life.

Ok.

Now you meet a new woman at your favorite hang-out place or online or where ever. This chick is a true hot babe (picture one of the hottest babes you know here). You introduce yourself to, and talk with this chick for a while. Let's say she gives you her phone number.

So you call her up and set up a meet somewhere with her. (Note: understand that all of this could happen in any one of a hundred different ways, but that doesn't really matter here). So you meet her at the appointed place at the appointed time. Your goal is to make her a new member of your harem. A new and exciting sex partner. After an hour or two or three (or however long it takes you) you go for the close.

BAM! Roadblock!

She throws out the Jack-Ass test (insert your favorite female shit-test here). Whatever the test is (it doesn't really matter at this point) it is specifically designed by her to stop you dead in your tracks and prevent you from getting what you want OR to test you to see what kind of a guy you really are before she will even consider going any further with you.

Remember...you are Bruce. You already have almost a dozen decent chicks that you can have sex with at any given time and you know it.

What do you do?

Telling the chick to fuck off and die because you already have a dozen other hot chicks the you can bed anytime you want would be one option. But it may certainly not be the best option for obvious reasons. You could give into her shit-test in the hopes that it might make her eager to screw you. But we have already found that this is a strategy which rarely, if ever, works.

These are two extreme responses to the situation, so let's briefly take a moment to analyze them both.

If you tell the chick to fuck off because you have dozens of other chicks you can have sex with, it will make her resent you and see you as a generally very unlikable piece of shit. (There are some RARE exceptions to this with certain chicks but this will not be covered here).

On the other hand, if you totally give into her shit-test, she will not respect you, and guys who chicks don't respect... chicks don't screw.

As with most all extremes, the answer usually always lies somewhere in the middle.

So again, what is the answer? Well, if you really DID put yourself in Bruce's place, I think the answer may have been clear to you already. Bruce does not need to supplicate, nor does he need to get pissed off and tell the chick to fuck off. Bruce plays her game, but he plays it adroitly and smoothly. And in doing so, he is no longer player HER game but playing his OWN game.

Remember the Golden Formula for sexual prosperity. You can be warm and friendly, but also confident, powerful and decisive. Since there's almost no way out of getting a bit more specific here, for the purpose of illustration, let's fill in the blank for the shit-test in this particular instance.

Let's say that after Bruce's 'date' with this chick, she calls him up the next day and asks him if he will come over tomorrow to help her wash her car. (This is a loaded test by the way). Bruce does not say yes, nor does he say hell no. He'd probably say something more like, "I'd love to if I could [girl's name] but I'll be pretty busy with a lot of things I have to get done tomorrow and I can't help you. Maybe some other time." (You may REALLY actually have another chick that you've already planned to spend time with and screw tomorrow).

Now there could be a hundred worse comebacks for this and there could be a hundred better ones. The point is that you have passed the shit-test without supplicating and without getting pissed off. NOTE! If the chick cannot handle a response like this, then she is either a CONTROL freak or some other demented form of game-player and either way you probably do NOT want her.

This particular shit-test will probably never happen to you in reality, so you may as well stop thinking about it. Its only purpose is to illustrate the basic way of how to go about properly handling shit-tests.

Notice something else that is very interesting here. It is BECAUSE Bruce is in the very position that he is in that he can handle shit-tests without getting pissed off and without supplicating. In short, he has nothing to lose.

Now here's the second part of the equation. Since Bruce DOES have so many chicks he can screw, he doesn't need to say this to other women. It automatically radiates through in his personality. Chicks can and do pick up on these kind of things. His actions in his confident demeanor will speak this MUCH louder than words. And this makes other chicks want to have sex with him even more.

But you say, "Well I don't really have a dozen chicks that I can screw at any time." And this is where some very serious mental discipline will have to come in. The truth is, if you do not have a dozen chicks to screw, or even one chick to screw, you must BELIEVE and ACT as though you have a dozen chicks to have sex with until it becomes a reality. I'm not going to pretend to tell you the perfect way on how to do this. There are MANY ways. But if you are really at a loss on this, here is one thing you MAY want to try. It has worked very well for me at my early points.

Simply think about and revivify EVERY chick you have successfully seduced and/or screwed all throughout your life. Revivify and amplify the experience as a full color motion picture in your mind when you are around women, complete with all the sights, sounds and sensations. Continue to loop these experiences in your mind, over and over, from one girl to the next. That ought to help you quite well in knowing that you are perfectly capable of getting and screwing women both in the past AND future, and most importantly, the present. Trust me. These feelings will transmit to chicks, and that's exactly what you want.

So to summarize, we have learned that not supplicating to a chick does not demand telling her to go straight to Hell or completely blowing her off at the slightest sign of trouble. Like it or not, chicks are going to give you the jack-ass and the shit-tests. There is no way around it. But remember that chicks do these things for a reason (assuming she isn't just some demented bitch out to play with your brain).

Non-Supplication is an art in itself, just as seduction is, and it must be executed skillfully and with forethought. Another potential danger to the whole non-supplication thing is quite simply, not knowing when to stop. Recently, I had seen a guy point out that he had a chick who was perfectly willing to have sex, but because he wanted to come across as non-supplivative, he lost his chance of screwing her. There is a really, REALLY simple rule to follow when it comes to this:

When a chick has decided that she wants to have sex, DON'T CHANGE A damn THING!

Do not switch strategies. Do not try to not supplicate. Do not try to be more cool. The chick has already DECIDED that she wants to screw which is the whole mind-set we wanted to get her in. Once she is definitely there, YOU NEED NOT DO MORE, other than screw her of course.

This is akin to watching a salesman oversell a prospect on a particular product. It's a screwing disaster. The customer has already made up his mind that he is going to BUY the product, but yet the salesperson feels he still needs to continue trying to sell it, and he ultimately talks the customer right OUT of the sale!

Make absolutely no mistake about it. In the very same way, you can OVER seduce a woman and talk her right out of the sex! Know when enough is enough.

CHAPTER EIGHT: Using Chick-Tactics To Nail Chicks

This one is short, sweet and simple. Chicks come up with a rather large variety of devices for blowing guys out if and when they're really not interested in them. Women usually don't, or can't come right out and say what's on their mind so they throw bullshit excuses at you instead.

Well, you can use the same stuff that chicks use on you (which usually just makes you more interested in them) to try to blow you out, to make THEM more interested in YOU. It works like a charm on a LOT of chicks.

First off, I hope you've at some point in your life read the book by Marcus Melton Jr. 'Nice Guys Don't Get Laid'. In his book, he outlines MANY of these excuses that women like to hand guys. The excuse that we're talking about here are the kind of excuses meant to say in effect to a guy "You're a really NICE GUY, but I just really don't want to sleep with you!"

There are many, but the one that probably tops them all is, "I feel so comfortable with you, you FEEL JUST LIKE A BROTHER TO ME!"

Translation: I could NEVER screw someone who is my BROTHER!

Now this "BEX" (bullshit excuse) is only one of many. Melton listed a whole load of them in his book, all of which I cannot remember, but I'm sure you'll damn sure know all of them if and when you HEAR them for real. Buy the book!

The tactic here is simple, and usually the simplest stuff works the best. Just REVERSE the BEX's and use them on HER.

"I feel so good talking to you, like I can tell you anything... you feel just like a SISTER!"

I've used this one with great success too. You can even tell them that they LOOK like your older/younger sister, whatever, and that they remind you SO MUCH of her. (Use a bit of discretion with this one, in other words just don't go overboard!) This has a GREAT affect of getting the stupid "great looks" thing out of the damn way REALLY fast! As any guy could have a great (10) looking sister, so what the hell is it to you?

Now this kind of statement REALLY gets their goat! I've used this particular statement myself quite a few times and I'm telling you it can almost work MIRACLES.

The last thing any woman wants to be thought of as by any guy is a SISTER. What's the logic behind the scenes here?

The logic is that if you only see a chick as being a sister, then that is making a statement about her LACK of being able to entice you in a SEXUAL or SEDUCTIVE type of way.

NO woman can have this! MANY women in this world judge themselves by how well and how quickly they can get any man sexually interested in them. They almost live their whole dogone life by it. Most of the time they succeed, as in the case with all chumps.

Their ego gets stroked, they blow the guy off, and move on to the next victim. Most women simply CANNOT tolerate it when you blow their whole rap, by BEX reversing.

In order to prove to themselves that they CAN in fact get you drooling over them sexually, they have to keep going further and further to see just what it will take to get you "hooked". The theory is simple and effective. They eventually have to go so far that the next thing they know they are in bed screwing you.

In summary, almost ANY BEX that a chick gives you, you can reverse and use it on HER. You'll be surprised by the sudden change in attitude. The added benefit, is that if you use natural BEXs that are inherently indigenous to FEMALE chick-logic, that gets them even WORSE because on the deep levels they know EXACTLY what it means when you say it to them. Try it, and enjoy the wonders.

CHAPTER NINE: When Chicks Make Sexual Decisions

"sleep with me"... she whispered in my ear.

Have you ever really wondered exactly how women go about making their decision as to precisely when and why they're going to screw you? I mean REALLY wondered about it in almost ridiculous detail?

I know I have. In fact I had been obsessed with this very thought for a long time. Now what I'm talking about here is not your typical, seemingly obvious answers as to why chicks decide to have sex. A typical answer to this question might be something like, "because the guy is good looking", or some other such simplistic thing. Certainly, something like this could be a valid enough answer, but what is REALLY there behind all the covert scenes.

First of all, we have to realize that for a chick to "decide to engage in the act of having sex", regardless of who the guy may be, definitely falls into the realm of 'Decision Making', or more specifically, the 'Decision Making PROCESS'. So we must ask some questions. HOW do chicks make their decision to have sex? WHEN do chicks make their decision as to if they're going to screw you or not? And WHERE precisely in the mind does all this mental process take place?

I wish to warn you right here and now, that I might decide to get VERY analytical on you in this chapter. So if you don't like that, or if it gives you a headache to think too much, I suggest you read no further. But I think you'll realize the benefit you'll gain.

Let's start by creating a simple parallel as to how we might begin to look at and understand this "decision making" process. Realize that this is only one of a possible many. Let's just say that there are a particular, finite number of "elements" in a chick's brain. These "elements" could be anything. Brain cells, neural-connections, whatever. You decide whatever suits you best. Now let's further say that we can assign a definite percentage to these elements, (i.e. 100%, 60%, 20%, etc.)

To get even more ridiculously technical on you, let's say that these "elements" operate only in a binary fashion. In other words, each element can only have one of two values. Either 1 or 0. For conversation's sake, let's say that a value of 1 = "Yes! I want to screw!". And the value of 0 = "No, I DON'T want to screw!".

Now we have 100 elements that can be only one of two values, and we know what those values are and what they mean.

So knowing this, what if 40% of the elements are 0 and 60% are 1? In this case, we have a girl whose mind is in the "state" of WANTING to have sex. And provided that these values remain CONSTANT, she will CONTINUE to want to screw. But what if we do something bad, something that the chick doesn't like and those values now reverse. 40% = 1 and 60% = 0. Or worse yet, 20% = 1 and 80% = 0. Now we have a chick that just doesn't want to have sex anymore.

Ok, NOW. What if.... we have a chick whose mind is precisely at 50% / 50% !!! Aaaah! Now this brings me to the REAL point of this chapter.

You see I truly believe that MOST all chick's minds really are at 50/50 THE FIRST SECOND YOU MEET THEM. And exactly what we will say and do will DETERMINE WHICH WAY THE VALUES GO. Just think about this for a few moments... exactly what you do, exactly what you say and exactly how you act are going to DETERMINE if there are more 1s, or if there are more 0s. But in the beginning, I also believe that this value does, or at least can, fluctuate quite a bit. But ultimately, through the miracle of time, it will begin to steady out and begin to stabilize towards one direction or another. And which way it goes can only depend on us.

How exactly do chick's go about DECIDING if they're going to screw you? And exactly WHEN do they come to this "decision?"

Hypothetical situation: You have a date planned with a chick. The plan is this: You're going to pick her up, go have dinner, go to the movies and then take a drive in your car to talk. That's the plan.

You go to pick her up; her mind is at 50/50. You go out to eat. After eating her mind is at 55/45 (55 1s and 45 0s). You go to the movies. At the movies you let out a rip roaring belch and offend her. Now her mind is at 30/70 (30 1s and 70 0s). Driving in the car you lay some really smooth talk on her.

As you pull up to her house, her mind is now at 90/10 (90 1s and 10 0s) She asks you if you want to come in. You take her up on the offer, follow her in and end up plowing pussy all night long. Now this hypothetical situation I have given you almost seems ridiculous, does it not? But as we think about it, I think we could begin to agree with what we already know. That this scenario, ridiculous though it may look in writing... is not all to far from the reality of what is ACTUALLY HAPPENING in a chick's mind many times.

Allow me to get yet even MORE outrageous on you. Let's say that we can ONLY have THREE possible states. Since we can rule out a 51/49 or a 49/51 or any other values as being a simple 100% in either direction (The chick is either going to have sex or NOT have sex, there's no two ways about it in reality), and we'll allow the 50/50 state as a possible given.

Now if ANYTHING is in a state of 50/50, then only the slightest nudge in any direction will cause it to become either a -100 or +100, depending on with direction the nudge came from (how we act around and subsequently influence the chick).

At this point we could make a lot of arguments. For instance, we could say that the chick really DOES want to screw, but that she is worried about her reputation, or buyer's remorse or some other such stuff, and that this could possibly pose an objection to her giving in and riding your rod. Although this is a valid argument, I point out again that if you go to the final conclusion, the ultimate END of the encounter, whatever and whenever that may be, you are STILL left with ONLY two possible outcomes. She either decided to milk you with her pie... or she didn't. There can ultimately ONLY be ONE OF TWO OUTCOMES. Just like Schrodinger's Cat, if you ever studied Quantum Physics.

If she did, WHY did she? If she didn't, WHY did she not? Although chicks are hardly logical most of the time, you must remember that they DO operate in accordance with their will. That is to say, they may not operate logically, but they DO operate predictably. It's also to say that if you can make a chick WANT to screw you MORE THAN she doesn't want to screw you... she WILL screw you. And although that sounds like a bit of an oxymoron, it is simply the undeniable and unbending law that cannot be broken. What is this "decision process" in a chick's mind?

How do we "influence" a chick's thinking, or more specifically, her Decision Making Process?! If we were to think of a chick's mind, and that little decision making center in her brain as something of a simplified adding machine, this adding machine serves and performs only ONE purpose. It takes several input values, and spits out only ONE value. And ultimately that value equals either "yes" or it equals "no".

I have said also in the past that a chick's mind is VERY much like a combination lock. Let's say that this lock has four numbers which must be of the correct values (obviously) and input in the correct order. Believe it or not, this is EXTREMELY similar to how a chick's mind operates. In fact it's SUCH a good analogy it's scary.

If you don't remember anything else, remember this: A chick's MIND is EVERYTHING else about her. You win her mind, and you've won EVERYTHING else. You've been misled all this time. You thought what you needed to somehow win was the chick's pussy. You were wrong. You needed to get into her mind, and the next thing you are into AUTOMATICALLY is her pussy.

You need to put the odds in your favor. The chick's mind just sits there, idling at 50/50. You need to nudge it over the line in your favor. Nudge it over and KEEP it over. That's all. Nothing more to it. Nada. SHE WILL SCREW YOU.

What do you use to push her mind over that line? Let me ask you a question. When you go to buy a car, do you buy it based on what YOU like about it or what the SALESMAN says he likes about it? What if the salesman could become you? You and he are now of one mind. Now he makes the decision to buy the car. Have you not now made the same decision also?

This is how expert salesmen work. It also happens to be very much how expert seducers work. You do not resist what you say to yourself. That's why when you're in 100% synchronization with a chick and her thinking, and you have a thought, it becomes HER thought as well. Only to her, it wasn't YOUR thought, it was HER thought, or so she thinks. When all is said and done, what you MUST do is gain access to that part of a chick's mind where her decisions are made. Granted you may not know exactly how to do this, at least not yet, but when you do, you will find out just how easy it can be to make HER decisions FOR her.

But this particular spot is often times heavily guarded, usually above all else. So how do we get in?

I have found out one thing to be very, very true. And that is when you can convince a chick that you TRULY have her better interests in mind, with the right questions on your part, she will begin to invariably open up this place in her mind to you. Once it is wide open (and it will be) it's then a rather trivial matter to put any thought, feeling or idea you wish there. That place of good decisions in her mind. The decisions she has made that have, even to this day, made her feel WONDERFUL. Will a chick decide "no" if she KNOWS she can make yet another such decision? Hardly.

There are many avenues that can be used to reach this place of making decisions. But the important thing to remember is that the act of making ANY decision is a PROCESS OF THE MIND. And like any other process, these processes can be directed, even triggered at will. The general formula is to first TRIGGER the process, and then give that process the "PATH" that you wish it to follow. I know that all of you reading this, even as you are reading this, can recall some time in your past when you made a good decision. And not just a decision that was merely "good", but a decision that you know was totally EXCELLENT because of the way that this great decision was making you feel, and even though you probably understand the point I'm trying to make, you can easily begin to understand how reading about this, and learning this new information was much like that excellent decision you made that made you feel so good about really doing it, and how you might be looking forward to experiencing and learning even more of this same excellent things in the future.

You see, it's not all to hard to link up ideas and decisions. Even though this chapter has nothing to do with your past decisions, you may have almost begun to feel that it did.

What we are ultimately after is a chick's decision making center in her mind. We reach that place sometimes directly, sometimes more indirectly. You may have seen a lot posted about these things called "end" values and "mean" values and qualities, etc. In my book, this all comes under the heading of criteria. You can find out a chick's specific criteria for any value or quality you wish by simply asking the right questions in the right way. The trick, as most of you know, is getting to the DEEPER levels of a chick's thinking (if there is such a thing) and getting her focused on THAT, and KEEPING her focused on that.

During this period of time her conscious thought processes will be "inwardly" focused, and this is the point at which she will be totally susceptible to your suggestions because as her attention is focused inward (and the critical gatekeeper is turned off) what you say has a tendency to slip right through, unimpeded, in affect, bypassing the conscious mind altogether. And as you probably know by now, that which is non-scrutinized by the conscious mind, slips easily and directly into the subconscious mind and is taken as unquestioned truth.

It's truly an amazing thing.

We want to get on a chick's wavelength. We want to develop an incredibly deep rapport with her. When we do so in the right way, we can elicit her criteria for ANYTHING. We can delve into the most intimate of topics with her, and she will respond. I think we all know that chicks are incredibly emotionally driven creatures. Please don't ever ask ANY chick to admit to this. They won't. They'll say they think just as reasonably and as logically as men. But you know better. So don't question it, don't ask for confirmation from women that you're never going to get. Just ACCEPT it.

Chicks don't realize that they do not think all that logical only because they have no truly logical thinking to reference it to. That's why they'll INSIST that they do. But again, you know better. Accept it.

When chicks go to dump out all their emotional stuff on you, just say things like "I understand how you FEEL", "that must have really FELT terrible!", "you have every right to FEEL bad" etc. Don't try to think logically. Don't try to solve their problems. If you try to solve their problems, you'll BECOME the problem. That doesn't make much sense but just trust me. Take it for what it is and accept it.

All of these things are part of "directing" that little decision making process in their mind. These are most of the more fundamental basics. In order for chicks to fuck us, they have to truly WANT to fuck us.

Many guys think they can somehow "talk" a chick into having sex with them with a lot of facts and reasons and other bullshit. Don't try it. It never works. Play on the EMOTIONS and the emotions ONLY. You already know that chicks are driven 99% by their emotions. And you already know that you must reach that final decision making center in their mind. From this you can obviously deduce that chicks make decisions EMOTIONALLY.

There really should not be one guy left who wonders why so many chicks get hooked up with guys who use the jerk approach, or simply are just true jerks. Because jerks IGNITE the EMOTIONS in chicks. That's all it takes. And notice that so much of the time the emotions they are being given aren't exactly positive or pleasant. But this makes little difference to many chicks because what they want is to feel and to feel and then to FEEL some MORE.

Chicks want to FEEL. Period. Ever notice how chicks love tragedy and love to gossip? Why? Because it makes them FEEL. Never mind that the emotions they are feeling are positive or negative. THEY WANT TO FEEL DAMMIT!

So we take all of this knowledge and we continue adding it to our arsenal. We want to be able to get into chick's minds, and these are some of the more powerful ways in which we go about it. We want to be able to influence and direct and control one of the most important things we can about any chick. Her DECISION making process. I'm giving you just some of the things you'll need to do that effectively.

Let's be straight about it. You want chicks to genuinely WANT to have sex with you. There's no other way. Don't use logic. Chicks can't be bargained with, they can't be reasoned with. You cannot "talk" a chick into the sack with facts and logic. In fact, lay this stuff on them and you'll only succeed in driving them away. Read that sentence ten times and then continue.

Since I consider myself a "social experimenter" of sorts (particularly in the field of "cuntology," and exactly what it takes to get in one) I've done a lot of experimenting and testing with chicks to find out exactly what kind of things worked, and what didn't work. Since I had to truly know the absolute truth about whether or not a chick could be "talked" into sex with reasons and logical facts, I purposely went out into the field many times specifically to find out if it could be done.

I've used every "logical" approach you can think of. And all I've found out is what we already know. It simply cannot be done.

Now it's true that what we DO want to do is capture and lead a chick's imagination. This, by the way, could simply be thought of as a far more "advanced" way of simply pacing and leading the chick. But along with leading her thoughts and imagination, if we can do this and ALSO lead this whole "process as a whole" into that special realm where her deepest and most important decisions are made... you can WRITE your own ticket. This bears repeating. YOU CAN WRITE YOUR OWN TICKET!

When we set out to capture and lead a chick's imagination, we do so through a variety of special means. One of these many tools is sexual metaphor, speaking in quotes, talking about our own experiences or the experiences of others. Sometimes we will elicit one or several of the chick's OWN experiences, and then "trance hijack" that state and begin to amplify it and link it with everything about us, or at least as many things as we can. Of course, when we do this, the near invariable result is that she always then associates all of these amplified, pleasant states to us.

I want to tell you that something like this is SO easy to do. If you've never actually done it, yet, you'll find that's it's so easy, you wouldn't believe it.

Now getting a chick into a very, VERY pleasant and aroused state of mind is easy to do. Sometimes the method may be as simple as creating incredible rapport and then simply asking the proper question. Something such as, "Can you remember the most exciting and pleasurable experience you've ever had in your life?" This question can conceivably be worded a hundred different ways. Once we've asked the question, and we HELP her get into state even deeper and quicker with all of our non-verbal and/or possible verbal pacing, we then hijack that trance, amplify it and make it even greater.

If you've had the same kind of experiences as me in life, or if you've used similar methods, you will find that topics like these, although they may not start out as such, will almost INVARIABLY lead to more direct sexual topics. And through your astute capturing and leading, the chick will feel totally COMFORTABLE talking to you about it.

There are dozens, if not hundreds, of "weapons" in the seduction arsenal

This is only one of many. But you may decide to use another, whatever works best for the SITUATION and the CHICK at hand. We are not robots. We use our MINDS to determine what is the best approach for any situation. NOT any set of rules or script.

To get more into this whole idea of chicks making decisions, let's use an analogy that probably most of us guys can understand. As a hypothetical situation, let's say that your goal is to find and purchase a top-of-the-line home stereo receiver. You locate the best electronics store which you know has the best equipment. When you walk into the store you go to the stereo receiver section. In front of you, you see one shelf of receivers. There are ten altogether, all side by side on the same shelf.

Now the strange thing is, as you begin to look over all of these receivers, you notice that they are all of almost identical color, identical shape and identical size and dimensions. Further, they ALL seem to have the same basic features. They have Dolby surround sound, a ten-band equalizer and almost the same wattage ratings. Even worse, they are all almost of IDENTICAL price. You go down the line, fooling with and listening to each receiver, adjusting all the controls and listening to the sound they each produce. With only MINUTE differences, they all seem to sound almost EXACTLY alike! The incredibly small difference between any two of the receivers is so small that it's not even worth taking note of. Now... HOW do you go about your decision as to which one to buy? You could number them all from 1 to 10 and then roll two dice and see which number comes up. You could flip a coin 5 times and use the process of elimination. Maybe you'll ask for another opinion.

You see, this example, I'm sure, would probably never happen in real life. However, this IS almost the EXACT kind of decision that hot chicks are faced with almost every day. And this is the point that I want you to see and understand. But for the single, hot chick, they are not facing ten, but a HUNDRED different receivers, all seeming almost identical, and all (seemingly) having the same features and benefits, and making the same claims and promises. Now you can naturally begin to see why this "decision making process" I speak of can be so critically important, and how it can be used with GREAT power to YOUR benefit in helping a woman to "decide" that being with you is the best possible choice she could make. In other words, if you could be a "sentient" stereo receiver sitting on that shelf... what would you do or say to you in order to convince you that YOU are the best receiver to buy? How are you going to stand out among the rest?

In this situation, that might be as easy as simply yelling, "hey! Look over here, I'm the best one to buy!"

Certainly it is not quite this easy with chicks. However the parity is nevertheless accurate enough. Having the power to become a "sentient stereo receiver" among ten others, and yelling out those words, is basically the equivalent of what I am giving you here.

We [can] use many gateways to get into a chick's deepest levels of thinking. Many of you probably know about quite a few of them. And we want to ultimately LEAD all of these things, (thoughts, FEELINGS and emotions) into that realm of thinking and process where her most important and gratifying decisions are made.

Make no mistake about it. Hot chicks are faced with HUNDREDS of opportunities and decisions when it comes to guys. And that thing about most guys being too intimidated to hit on or ask out a hot chick? That is a COMPLETE bullshit lie. The lowliest slug that just crawled out from under his stump has no problem making at least SOME kind of attempt at bedding these hot babes.

Sure, most of them get turned down. But it makes YOU just that much more of just another face in the crowd of horny guys that just want to get laid UNLESS you can set yourself apart from ALL the others. And when you do this, you'll ultimately be able to easily make her decision for her as well. The theme of this message is simple. You want a chick to SEE you as a GOOD decision. A good decision to know you. A good decision to want to be with you. A good decision to FUCK you. This is not difficult to accomplish. In fact it can be ridiculously easy if and when you know what you're doing. When you use your strategies and methods, whatever they may be, to get a chick into state, first AMPLIFY that state, and then MOST IMPORTANTLY.... MOVE all that you have done into that place in her mind where her best and most SATISFYING decisions have been made.

This is the key. In doing this, she will see and totally ASSOCIATE YOU with all of the best and most fulfilling decisions she has ever made in the past. I'm telling you flat out and with great power, there are VERY FEW chicks who cannot be deeply and profoundly affected by this. However, just understand that you can't get blood from a stone, money from a broke person, or PASSION from a cold, turned-off pussy.

I add this word of caution only because it IS a fact that there ARE a few ice queens out there. But thankfully, this ONLY accounts for about 30% or less of women in the world. The remaining will be very if not INCREDIBLY impacted by this strategy. I have done and used this myself many, many times and it has yet to fail me.

In closing I would like to add something very important. I, personally, know for CERTAIN that fully probably 95% or so of people HIGHLY underestimate the real power of mental processes. And I think the main reason being, because they simply don't UNDERSTAND them. If you did, you would know just what I'm talking about here. A chick must run some kind of mental process in her mind for everything.

When you ultimately take all that you have elicited, all that you have created and amplified with a chick, and then move it ALL into that place of unquestioned decision, this chick WILL be yours. I caution you. I use this technique myself. It does work and it does have MASSIVE power, without question. Be careful what you do with it.

CHAPTER TEN: Why Women Test Guys

A lot of guys are resentful about the fact that women do this... pull these "jackass" tests on them.

Well, I've got some news for you guys. You better learn to GET OVER IT, and learn how to make it work FOR you rather than letting it make you into a bitter SOB.

First of all, realize this; ANY form of resentment towards women, WHATEVER your reasons may be, will ONLY cause you more problems with them and contribute even MORE to you NOT getting what you want from them. Harboring resentment towards women is like dumping water on a fire. It KILLS your chances. Women can pick up on this more than you probably realize. Yes, you may be able to mask it for a while, but eventually it will show through, and it will make women NOT WANT TO BE AROUND YOU.

It is my hope that this chapter will be a helpful "tool", if you will, for helping you to better understand WHY women do things that they do. And by understanding it, help you to not take some of the stuff they do personally.

Ok, down to the point.

Why do women test men so much?

The short and simple answer: Because... THEY HAVE TO!

Ok, let me throw a bit of NLP stuff at you here. There is a basic presupposition in NLP that says: "EVERY behavior seeks to accomplish something useful in SOME context!"

So what is this saying? Well the long and short of it is that ANY behavior that a woman exhibits (or any person) is an attempt to serve SOME purpose which is beneficial to her better interests and desires and needs.

In other words, there is a REASON that women are constantly putting guys through jackass tests. Ok, let's look at this in yet another way. I have said this to guys before, and I'll say it again here. What if it were YOU who was the beautiful woman? The hot babe?

Don't buy into that bullshit that beautiful women "never get approached or asked out" because men are so "intimidated by their good looks." That's a total myth. Hot babes are almost CONSTANTLY being eyed up and hit on by every sleazoid scumbag under the sun. And by EVERY type of guy, good looking ones as well as not so good looking ones.

So, again, Imagine that YOU are the HB in this instance. Maybe you get hit on and asked out anywhere from 5 to 10 times a day depending on how much exposure you have out in the world. But you are CONSTANTLY being eyed up. You always see men looking at you with lust, undressing you with their eyes, and you KNOW they have one thing on their mind and one thing only; SCREWING you!

Ok, let's apply some logic here. Do you think women are actually going to want to screw any and all of these guys who hit on them and ask them out? Screw maybe 2, 5 or 10 guys a day? Not likely!!!

For women, having to blow guys off is all routine to them. It becomes SO routine in fact, that they may end up blowing off some of the rare good ones along with all the dirtbags. Women, especially beautiful women, become automatically PROGRAMMED to do this after a while, and your looks and/or status may end up having VERY little to do with it. Now on occasion, a woman will have a man ask her out who strikes her fancy, for whatever reason. (This should be YOU, by the way).

But in order to make sure that this guy isn't just like EVERY other inept asshole that she's gone out with in the past.... SHE TESTS HIM!

If you really think about this here, you may begin to understand that a woman, especially a hot babe, is almost FORCED into the position of having to do this. Yes we think it sucks, yes we can get resentful over it, but why? It's because you are looking at her tests in the WRONG way. When a woman is testing you, it can be a very, very good thing.

If the woman were not thinking about seriously wanting to screw you, or have a relationship with you, she wouldn't even BOTHER testing you!

So when a woman throws "jackass" tests at you, what she is REALLY doing is structuring a set of "doorways" that you must successfully "walk" through in order to get into her pants. Now if the woman is setting up these doorways for you, it presupposes that she is doing it because she WANTS to have a chance at screwing you or getting in to a long term relationship with you or whatever.

So realize one very important thing; When a woman tests you, whether she is doing it consciously or subconsciously (usually the latter, as women are PROGRAMMED to do this) she is actually STRUCTURING a way for you to get her. And is more than likely HOPING that you will be able to walk through all of the doorways, or you wouldn't have gotten this far with her to begin with. And not only that but she is just hoping against hope, that you are NOT like all the other chumps she's gone out with in the past.

Consider this. When you go out with a woman, and you want to get into her pants, what is it that you are really after initially? Her pussy? No. You are after her MIND first. A woman's mind is the doorway TO the pussy. If you can't get into that, you're NOT going to get in to the latter.

I'd like you to consider this very simple analogy when dealing with women. Think of a woman's mind like a bank vault door. This door has several combination dials across the front of it, (say 3 or 4). When all of the numbers to the combination are input correctly and in the proper sequence, you spin the wheel, pull the handle and the door opens.

Now, exactly what happens once this takes place? Well, it now allows anything that's on the inside to be taken out, and ALSO, anything that you wish to put in to be PUT IN.

Believe it or not, it really is just that simple when you are dealing with women. All women have their particular "combination", which when PROPERLY entered, will allow you to take out whatever you wish and put in whatever you wish. It's really just about that simple.

You COULD look at the combination as the combination to the chick's pants zipper. However, I personally prefer to look at it as the combination to the mind itself. Why? Because once that door is opened in just the right way, you not only have the combination to her pants, but just about anything else as well. If you've dialed in the combination correctly, and you say, "lets go back to your place for some incredible mind-blowing sex!", the chick says "ok!" Remember, with an open door, things can be put IN as well as taken OUT. In other words, she puts out, and you put IN! Okay, that was kinda crass.

But seriously, when you have this condition established, you can put any suggestions in (as well as other things) and she will GIVE information (and other things) out. So in summary, the "combination door" metaphor can be a very useful way of looking at your interactions with any particular woman.

Every woman has her particular combination which allows her to open to you. So relating this all back to idea of women testing men, you can think of a woman's tests as just one of those combination dials on the vault door. It has to be there, and it has to be dialed correctly, or the door don't open. And the fact is, is that women really do WANT to find the guy who can dial in her combination correctly. Good news is, you CAN be that guy!

CHAPTER ELEVEN: Why You Don't Mind Hearing "LJBF" (Let's Just Be Friends)

You are a person who doesn't mind hearing LJBF. Indeed, in some cases you WANT to hear LJBF. Ok, so have I finally lost my mind? Nope. First, this assumes that you are hearing a genuine "let's just be friends" as opposed to "I never want to see you again you chump!"

If you must receive an LJBF, understand that it is not something to be feared, or put off by, but rather something to be embraced as PURE opportunity. And believe me, it IS opportunity.

Some prerequisites:

If you are an adept Seducer, you will soon realize that LJBF means nothing to you. I am, of course, speaking of my own experiences here, but the truth is that I have NEVER had a "female-friend" that I have not turned in to a "sex-buddy" to one degree or another, unless it was for a specific tactical (usually pivot) purpose. Female friends CAN be some of the EASIEST females to transform into sex-buddies and/or girlfriends.

If A Girl LJBFs You.

If any girl gives you the LJBF, you have essentially one of two choices.

1- Take more of the "jerk/confident" stance and say something like, "No, I have lots of friends. You want a friend? Get a dog."

Or 2- EXPRESS AGREEMENT. Just AGREE with what the chick says in some way or another. Example:

You: "That's fine... I'm really not looking for a girlfriend right now."

Or any other variation of this line: "Don't really want a girlfriend right now." "Don't want to be in a relationship", you get the picture. Take away any leverage the chick may think she has over you at the moment. You accomplish that by doing just this. By stating unequivocally that you are NOT looking for a girlfriend, you have now diffused any immediate objections to anything. Be soft, like a piece of cloth. Don't give the chick anything to push against. Whatever you do, do NOT pout, get pissed off or show ANY kind of resentment in any way. When you learn to look at LJBFs for what they really are, you will be able to do this with ease.

Now herein lies one of the reasons that I love Maximum Seduction so much.

Maximum Seduction, when done with finesse, is extremely covert, and yet VERY powerful... even on not-long-to-be "female friends."

So what do you do now? Call her up a few times. Just be relatively casual the first or second time around. (You may not even have to wait this long, but that's your judgment call). Call her up again (or just go see the chick, go for a soda/drink, whatever).... and START hitting her with the PATTERNS! Incredible connection, Fascination, Love vs. Attraction, etc. You may be tempted to hit her with it all at once, but it may be better to draw it out a bit (don't worry, you don't have long to wait). But every time you see or speak with her, hit her with yet another technique.

Now.... considering the precipitating circumstances, it is EXTREMELY important in these cases that you set the proper THEME and FRAME before you start laying the patterns on her. You want your words to easily slip right in with no resistance. You will accomplish this by always setting the proper THEME/FRAME first!

What is a theme? The theme is the conversational "environment" that you create BEFORE you start slipping the patterns into her.

For example, if you're going to talk with her about Love vs. Attraction, it might be nice to have a reason for doing so first so that there is no resistance whatsoever to the subject/pattern. Chicks, sweet as they can be, are relatively ignorant in many respects.

Just talk about "a friend" who had "talked to you" about this, or you heard it on some TV show or some other such stuff. Just as long as it is not something directed (at least as far as she knows) to "you and her." Easy enough, and you should know how to do this by now anyway if you've been doing your homework and studying hard.

Ok. The results to expect.

I'll run through one scenario and one only. YOU do the math on the rest. Assuming this girl is what I call SS-Affective, if you see/speak with her twice a week, and run 2 patterns effectively per conversation, she will want to screw you/get with you at probably 2 weeks time or less.

TA'd (Turn Around) in 2 weeks time. Not bad for an initial LJBF response.

LJBF does not mean LJBF. LJBF means, "give me a reason to WANT to screw you before I decide to screw you." What I'm telling you is reflective of my own experiences and current high level of skill. If you are still stuck in the mode of taking LJBF as absolute rejection though, it's probably not good. If you can shift your thinking and actions about this... when and if you should ever hear an LJBF, you will no longer hear "let's just be friends" but rather, "give me a good reason to screw you so I can screw you already!"

Nuff said.

CHAPTER TWELVE: Getting To Sexual YES

What is the bottom-line reason any woman decides to sleep with you. Haven't you ever wondered?

This is a question I've probably asked myself a thousand times. Maybe you have to, and over the years I've come to some interesting conclusions and answers.

To begin with, take into consideration the most global factor as to why anybody does anything: to gain pleasure and/or avoid pain. It's almost always a mix of the two, although some people will be motivated more by one than the other. Rather than elaborate greatly, I'll simply say that there is nothing you can do, or have done or will do that is not either an attempt to, in some way, gain pleasure or avoid pain.

Consider now that the prime goal in any seduction interaction is to motivate the subject to TAKE ACTION, or, to simply become COMPLIANT to our will. Depending on the chick, she'll eventually come to the point where she'll either actively jump your bones, or just LET you jump hers. For further reference in this post, let's call this moment the Threshold Of Action, or simply, TOA.

The TOA comes about when the chick has lost all of her ambivalence and/or prior inhibition to screwing you and will either MAKE it happen or allow YOU to make it happen. So the overriding question becomes, exactly HOW do we get the chick we're seducing to the TOA?

Let's go back to the gain pleasure-avoid pain rule again. Knowing that this is the case, it would be completely reasonable to assume that before ANY chick can ultimately come to the Threshold of Action, she must BELIEVE, on a subconscious level, that her decision and action will bring her more pleasure than pain, or, to alleviate or REMOVE some sense of pain in FAVOR of pleasure. If the chick is pretty stable and generally happy in life, then she'll look at it as merely an opportunity to ADD additional pleasure to what she already has. Can you think of a time where there may have been some specific action, some opportunity for possible fun that you were simply indifferent to? Maybe you went to an amusement park at one time, and there was a ride there that you were skeptical of going on at first, but your friends persuaded you; "You'll LOVE this ride... it's a blast! The feeling is awesome! After you ride this thing you'll just want to go on it again and again!"

So after a bit of blatant persuasion, you finally decide to ride the damn thing, and... you find out that you DO love it. What's important to get out of this is, HOW and WHY were you ultimately persuaded, and when you "made the decision," what exactly was the process of making it? Think about this carefully. The key here, is to get a powerful FEELING of exactly what it felt like right at some crucial persuasion moment, like being convinced to do something that, prior to that moment, you may have been indifferent, or perhaps even somewhat opposed, to doing. Consider for a moment, that concerning any woman (women) you have slept with up to this point, there was more than likely a period in which she may have had no intention of sleeping with you. Perhaps she was opposed, or maybe she just didn't really think about it either way. At what point, going back through the experience now, do you think it was that she came to the Threshold of Action?

The point at which there was no longer any limiting ambiguity as to whether or not she KNEW she wanted to jump you? Chicks sleep with guys for different reasons. Some do it because they're simply horny and the right guy is in the right place at the right time. Others do it because they feel they've established an "emotional connection" with the guy.

Others still may do it because it is their means of feeling valued and desired, or like they're worth something. However, ALL chicks sleep with guys because they ultimately believe it's going to GET THEM SOMETHING THEY WANT.

Think about the college chicks who won't sleep with the "geeks," even though the guy may not be bad looking at all. In secret she might actually desire the experience. However, it probably WOULD ruin her reputation on campus and/or with all her friends. The pain of the real or PERCEIVED consequences of sleeping with the geek, far outweigh any pleasure that might be gained from the experience.

Ever been turn down by a chick in school? A club, a bar or a party? Ever worked on a chick half the night only to see her walk in the end, and you never see her again? Perhaps you tried to get something going, she definitely knew were up for sex, and she still walked?

There could literally be a thousand different specific reasons for her actions that you'll never know, but the one thing that is for certain (and this MAY be the one area in seduction where anything can be as close to 100% certain as possible) is that whatever was going on in this chicks mind, she simply did NOT believe that sleeping with you was going to bring her more pleasure... make her life any happier or interesting than the cross she would have to bear, the bad emotions she would have to endure, whether her own or others, if she DID sleep with you.

Even if she thought you might just be a closet psycho and that by going home with you she may be raped or killed, it is STILL some sense of pain aspect associated with just trying to figure out whether you really are, or whether you aren't... and it just isn't worth the effort. And obviously, the massive pain that would be brought about by a perceived potential rape. If a chick WENT to the bar with only the agenda of seeing how many guys would buy her drinks in hopes of getting sex, what would she later have to think of herself if she DID give in and go home with some guy for sex? She would more than likely, at least in HER mind, have to feel like a cheap slut who puts out for drinks. Again, the pain not being worth the pleasure.

From the perspective of this global model (which is about as global as you can get) we see that our mission, our goal with any chick we're trying to nail, is to CREATE a situation and a set of circumstances that will plainly and unambiguously present her with an opportunity to GAIN far more pleasure than any pain she would ever stand to incur.

Although our seductive interaction with a woman is continuum, a gradual progression of steps smoothly leading from one to the other, there is a well defined point where any chicks is methodically swayed to the point of the TOA.

Unlike the 1-4 minute rule, where the chick is initially and somewhat randomly evaluating what the general POSSIBILITIES of fucking you are, The Threshold of Action is much more well defined. It probably happens in somewhat of a singular moment, the moment at which the scales have been unmistakably tipped in favor of the fuck. Although we may never truly know precisely when this "moment" occurs, we don't need to. All we need to know is that we must, through our persuasive language and behaviors, drive her PAST this point to secure the lay.

Consider my "instant-kino" rule (which you'll read about shortly). That is, you hug and kiss the chick IMMEDIATELY upon meeting her and introducing yourself. This effectively and QUICKLY removes all the 1-4 minute demons that may otherwise be set free to chaotically run around and create havoc in her mind. And most importantly, it sets the value of possibilities of sex to YES. POSSIBILITY = YES.

Remember that almost all of this is happening at a level which is very much out of conscious awareness*, in fact, it's simply what naturally takes place all the time anyway. I am simply putting the model to it. Once we get the possibilities for sex to equal YES, it becomes much, much easier to proceed with the rest of the effort and it will all be received much more quickly and openly. The remainder of the task, as we've learned, is to now begin driving her to the Threshold of Action using all of our skills. We begin moving her from a position of possibly more pain/less pleasure expected, to a position of more pleasure/less pain expected. (Patterns, Language, Non-Verbal communication, Criteria, Cialdini principles, etc)

The process may happen in a day, or in a night, or it may take several days to a week depending on if the chick is worth it. Naturally, the chick's sexual predisposition can be a relevant factor in how everything will go. Her past memories, experiences, beliefs and habits are what you're dealing with.

The point of this writing is to give you very large picture, global model of what is really happening behind the scenes when you're working on boning that hot babe. Again, these are all things that are very much out of conscious awareness, usually on the part of BOTH parties. They are not something we address verbally or directly. But nevertheless, they are the principles that are invisibly and silently guiding the interaction.

The ideas I want you to come away with are, first, NO chick in history has every fucked without truly BELIEVING that it somehow served her better interest, her desire to minimize pain in some way or to receive more pleasure in some way.

Second, if you'll just keep this overriding principle in mind in ALL of your seductive interactions with chicks, I think you'll find that it will add a whole new dimension to your clarity and ability. Lastly, the most global aspect of what you're doing with any chick, is gently yet powerfully and fluidly MOVING her towards the Threshold of Action, at which point, the lay can be considered in the bag.

CHAPTER THIRTEEN: NLP and PUA - And The Essence of Seduction

If we're to first define these terms, I'd say that a PUA (Pickup Artist) is an artist of seduction who basically "performs," in the sense that there is nearly always some sort of "performance door" or gimmick which is used to pique chicks' interest, usually physical (as in physical or material-emotional) in nature and is usually performed with the aid of props (clothing styles, unconventional personal behaviors, instruments, etc) in order to elicit an above average curiosity and [sexual] interest.

On the other hand, an NLP Seducer can be also be very high spirited, but also relies mainly on a more psychological and/or scientific approach to gaining chicks' interest, which is, based on psychological conscious and unconscious processes. The pitch may or may not initially come on more "normal" and then move into the realm of triggering and running mental strategies and processes, ultimately producing a sexual state(s) [of mind] which will then be linked exclusively to the NLPer.

I could be said that, roughly speaking, a PUA operates on "good-old-fashion" (albeit incredibly augmented) principles of gaining chicks' admiration and sexual interest and maintaining/amplifying that interest until a specific time at which the close can be made. Whatever an NLPer may be, and whatever a PUA may be, the IMPORTANT thing to note in all of this, is that this does NOT have to be an either/or choice. Another crucial factor is to remember that the NLPer and the PUA ultimately all have the same goal: to get laid. There are many approaches and techniques, as real life easily proves But when we finally reach the end conclusion of getting laid, the lay probably very much looks, sounds and feels the same way, regardless of what the course may have been which brought us there. I've noticed one thing; whether I had gotten a lay by playing keyboard in a small-time band in a small-time club, or had gotten the lay by rapping a chick with a lot of NLP rich language... for all intents and purposes, the sex still felt the same.

Since being PUA or being NLP does not, by any means, have to be an either/or choice, there is a third 'and' choice. When we move up to a more global level, we once again realize that the common goal is the same: that of getting laid. I openly propose, now, a term which I've used myself for a number of years to describe what I do. A Master Seducer, or, a 'Seductionist' uses whatever means and skills available to him, in the proper setting and times, to secure the lay. To further define, if as a Seductionist I'm playing off any gimmick in any club or establishment that attracts women and gets them wet, I'll USE and GO WITH that gimmick all the way to the lay if it is sufficient in and of itself.

There would be absolutely no reason to do otherwise if what I'm doing is WORKING. If I'm, perhaps, in more of a discreet one-on-one situation with a chick, (or even two or three-on-one) like the kind of situation which might be encountered in a coffee shop, bookstore, school or even online or on the phone, I will switch to tactics which may be more effective in THAT seductive setting; that being the tactics of SS, where I can specifically use my language to invoke the desired states. A Seductionist uses WHATEVER tools are available to him. He is an "artist of seduction," ALL seduction, as the name implies and not merely a simple practitioner of specific technique.

Having the skill and awareness to recognize something which may be working for you NATURALLY in a given situation is JUST as important a skill as knowing specific SS techniques and/or an art or gimmick which can open the door for potential lays. And there is absolutely nothing which says that a door cannot be opened through performing an art, and then augmenting whatever response you have elicited initially by using NLP methods if that will yield the path of least resistance.

You GO WITH WHAT WORKS.

I consider what I do to be the 'Jeet Kune Do' of seduction, which is what I like very much about NLP and Maximum Seduction. Having no style as style. An ever evolving and ever advancing style. As water conforms to the features of land over which it lies, so should you too "conform" to the features and thinking of the chick you're seducing. We bone a chick by developing a certain "oneness" with her, not resistance We bone a chick by going from success to success to success with her until we reach that eventual success of the lay. Should HOW we get there be as important as THAT we get there? I think not (barring anything obviously inappropriate).

This is the ESSENCE of seduction in its truest sense. And the GOAL of seduction is getting laid. We sometimes seem to forget that.

CHAPTER FOURTEEN: Instant Kino - The Importance of First Moves

WARNING: This chapter may be hazardous to your nice-guy ways!

Women want sex just like men. The individual tactics may be somewhat different, but the end desire is almost always the same: great sex, among other things.

Let me start out by saying the more I use kino quickly in all of my interactions with chicks, the more I know that it's the right thing to do, and I become aware of just how effective and helpful it is in reaching the goal of getting these woman in my bed.

This is from my perspective; It would be enough for me to tell you to use it, because it works, and simply leave it at that. But the astute seductionist wants to know WHY things work, why things don't work and so on. This is my audience.

Before getting into the real meat of things, I want to make a few simple distinctions in terminology.

"Instant-Kino" is a very specific term. It describes the kino you impart to a chick INSTANTLY upon meeting her, as within about the first 2 seconds. This refers to the one arm around her waist, draped just ever so slightly over her ass, and the slight peck on the cheek, close to the lips. In some more rare instances, on the lips. "Kino," (kinesthetic) in general, is defined as ANY physical touch, to any degree, during the time you're with a chick. Some may further define it as physical touch that is specifically intended to get the chick hot, ready for sex, etc.

The Importance of First Moves -- The First Encounter:

EVERYTHING that you do in the first encounter with any chick is critically important. It's important because it literally sets the stage as to:

1. What KIND of person you're going to be.
2. The DIRECTION that all subsequent encounters are going to take.
3. What can and will be EXPECTED of you by her.

Knowing this, there seem to be enough mounds of data and material out there to suggest that the infamous "first impression" is one of the most crucial aspects of seduction to master. But even more than that, they give us a time frame; somewhere within the first one to four minutes.

It is my belief that (and listed in order of priority) the first 1 to 4 minutes are the most critical, because it sets the stage. The REMAINDER of the time of the first encounter is next. This is the time in which the experience of the first four minutes are solidified; the hours that you spend at the club together talking, touching, etc.

Why Kino Is So Important:

Whenever I write about this instant-kino stuff, guys will email me asking: "Does doing this right away really make a difference, is this really something I should do?"

And the answer is always the same: absolutely. But it is even more important to understand WHY you're doing it. If you're going to do something good, and with confidence, you probably, if you're like most people, want to believe that what you're doing is right and valid, and that it serves a useful purpose.

In classical seduction, there are generally 3 important psyche factors that are recognized relating to the interaction between men and women in the active playing field who are trying to hook up.

1. How well one person responds to and ACCEPTS the ideas/thought/behaviors of the other. (i.e. laughing at some of her dumb jokes, making light of a really dumb behavior, easily accepting her subtle flirts/advances etc.

2. A sort of Social Synergy. What are the interests of one compared with the other. "Will we work together?" People look to garner acceptance and/or appreciation in the "out there" social setting of the world. "Will this person be able to give me that kind of affirmation and acceptance? Are we similar?"

3. Latent potential (very similar to the Maps of The World approach in NLP). A person wants to not only be seen for what they are in the immediate moments, but ALSO, what they are CAPABLE of in their IDEAL condition or state. The great things they could accomplish in life if only given the chance, etc. In short, they want their significant prospect to not only appreciate who and what they are right now, but more importantly, what they CAN BE.

For the sake of understanding, I only want to briefly look at number 1.

The rule sounds simple, but it is deceptively simple. It relates to how a guy and a chick will readily and easily accept the ideas and behaviors of the other, mostly in the initial interaction. When a chick says shit to you, or exposes certain parts of her personality, flirts with you, makes comments, etc, she wants to see and know that you are easily accepting of how she BEHAVES and ACTS, and that further, you may even encourage it.

The importance of this, is that when a chick sees that you are indeed accepting of her thoughts/behaviors, she will, essentially, FUTURE pace this knowledge into subsequent encounters with you. In other words, she SEES the two of you getting along and having fun far into the future, not just in the present moment.

Remember this fact. It is, roughly speaking, a very large basis of first impressions and how they greatly affect your FUTURE encounters with her. More crucially, IF you will have any future encounter with her.

When we bring NLP into the picture, it opens up yet a whole new excellent set of models for understanding this first impression and instant-kino thing.

I've explained this before and I'll explain it again here because it is so utterly important. We've probably all heard of the NLP concept of frame-setting. Frame-setting can be incredibly powerful, because if I set a particular frame, of my devising, around any event, situation or communication... if you step into this frame with me and interact with me, then you must accept whatever is in that frame to be true, naturally.

Another reason that this NLP frame-setting is so powerful, is easily understood when we take the Cialdini principle of Commitment and Consistency into account: When you knowingly step into the frame that I have manifested, and CONTINUE to operate within that frame, the more you operate, the more you MUST operate if you are to remain congruent in your own thoughts and feeling regarding your actions. It's something of a catch-22 situation.

Yet this is often how whole masses of people can be subverted into committing genocide, or some other such thing.

When a chick knowingly steps into a situation, a frame, with you, she is basically ACKNOWLEDGING that she is accepting your rules and what is to come next. She is ACCEPTING the situation as you are presenting it. Remember, also, that this is a two edged sword: she will accept your frame, but, she will also have EXPECTATIONS of you to perform to the standards YOU have set. And if you fail to do this, whether it be intentional or out of ignorance, then YOU will be the one who is seen as massively incongruent with your own frame. Points gone. You lose.

One simple example of this would be giving a chick instant-kino, and then not FOLLOWING UP with any additional boldness or kino for the remainder of the night. She will think you are way strange and you will be ejected.

So to review, we have 3 elements at work here. First, the simple and natural desire to want to flow smoothly and acceptingly in any new interaction with the opposite sex.

Second, the power of the frame. When we step into a frame that has been created by another we, essentially, are giving our seal-of-approval to the validity and the correctness of that frame.

And thirdly, We want to remain consistent with the commitment we have made to step into and operate WITHIN that frame, thereby remaining consistent with our thoughts/beliefs, and also showing the character and resolve that we have, perhaps inadvertently, admitted we possess. As if this were not enough, kino and instant-kino obviously play on a chick's more overt PHYSICAL desires and wants as well; the instantaneous physical sensations of the moment.

Things like this, done in just the right way, to just the right degree, will get VIRGINS to fuck. Need I say more.

The way in which we handle an initial encounter can, literally, set the stage for a relationship that could even last for years to come. It will also very much set the stage as to what may happen THAT NIGHT.

Instant-kino has other fringe benefits. Most women absolutely adore passion, sensuality and eroticisms, and anything related to these things. When you play the instant-kino game you are 'thought binding' her in the direction you want her to go. That is, you are SETTING the direction of her thoughts to the passionate, sensual and erotic. Anything that follows is, therefore, likely to be viewed through the emotional filter of these things via the simple laws of association. But again, be warned: If you have the balls to come on this strong, women will love it, but, they will also EXPECT much of you. They will expect you to, later, DELIVER grandly on the promise of that first, sweet taste of what is to come.

The Rewards, And The Cold, Hard Reality:

Do not allow yourself to be the fool who believes that he can make a chick swoon by a mere demonstration of your upright honesty and directness. The truth is that sheer honesty and directness are anti to the seduction process. Some guys feel that "certain women" will not respond well to instant-kino and subsequent kino because the chick they have in their sights is just "too decent, good and honest a person to ever respect a guy like that!"

Nothing could be further from the truth. And I've found this to be so over and over and over again in my life.

A Word On "Good, Honest Girls," and Instant-Kino:

Marcus Melton Jr., when he wrote his classic book 'Why Nice Guys Don't Get Laid', was brilliant for one particular reason. He made the distinction between "Mr. Abuse" (the jerk) and "Mr. Nice-Guy" (the nice guy), and their respective strengths and weaknesses. But he also did something that was unprecedented up until that time. He also made a distinction regarding a guy known as MR. AVERAGE.

Simply stated, Mr. Average is the kind of guy who can, in essence, be a jerk when it comes to women he doesn't care about, and therefore is capable of attracting and laying them. But put a girl in front of him that he sees as "being above other girls," and he will quickly revert right back into nice-guy (AFC) mode. He puts her on the pedestal, treats her special and on and on, until, he inevitably gets LJBFed or dumped altogether. BEWARE OF THIS SITUATION.

The SAME thing holds true when it comes to kino/instant-kino. Do not make the mistake of thinking that any chick is so pure and honest or special that she will not thoroughly appreciate the instant-kino game. You are reading the words of one who has learned this lesson all too well in life, and usually the hard way. Learn from the mistakes.

Another common pitfall along these very same lines, is thinking that because you have such a common outlook or deep connection in life with the chick you're initially dealing with, that you can simply forgo any immediate kino at the first encounter and just feed off the amazing likeness of your two minds... waiting for just the right time and "date" to get the kino and the sex rolling.

DO NOT MAKE THIS MISTAKE.

If you do indeed have this kind of likeness and similarity with a chick, that is all the MORE reason that you should proceed with the kino as soon as possible. Because more than likely, it is all the more reason that she is EXPECTING this to happen. And she believes that it should happen naturally and smoothly, even MORE so than with the average guy. Keep that in mind when you feel you are dealing with the "perfect match."

Remember: As a rule, the first encounter "seals your fate," as it were, so it is unbelievably crucial to make it the very best. If you do things right from the start, subsequent efforts will be ten times easier. If, on the other hand, you fail to come across with the goods on the first encounter, ensuing efforts will be difficult and arduous and ten times harder if not completely impossible.

The First Four Minutes:

The strategy for the first four minutes is simple and straight forward. Instant-kino ALWAYS. Set the instant-kino frame right out of the gate! Then, as it relates to her, PACE everything she does or says. As it relates to the situation, say things that can ONLY be construed as absolutely true.

Most of all, in the first four minutes, you want everything to be yes, yes, yes, yes! In the first four minutes you've accomplished a lot. You've set the frame of what is to be; romance and sex. You've let her know that you're a guy who knows what he wants and she is now IN that frame WITH you. You are warm and friendly, soft and smooth as a piece of silk cloth, giving her nothing to push against.

For the remainder of the evening (day, whatever) don't drop the ball. Keep the closeness going. Use proxemics (physical distance and orientation) to your advantage. If you sit at a booth, don't sit across that wide table from her, sit NEXT to her. In short, you must take advantage of every situation to REINFORCE the initial impression that you have made. And you can easily do it without being overbearing or overwhelming.

Remember that you do have an outcome, so you must know and PROJECT your intention. The more you are able to project and REMAIN CONGRUENT WITH your intention, the more everything you do will be seen by her as being completely natural and comfortable, like, "this is the way it should be." As the two of you are talking, and you're laying the patterns on her or whatever, DO NOT wait too long to apply additional kino. In fact, it should be done, with your good discretion, from the moment you establish yourself in the corner of the club/restaurant and are situated: touching her hair, face in a playful but direct manner, etc. Remember: she is now EXPECTING it from you at one level or another. Obviously, you're ultimately going for the long, wet, hard kiss.

The proper environment will lend itself to making this much more easy and acceptable to her. Always consider it beforehand. After the power-kiss and a lot of heavy making out, it eventually comes time to lead her to the fuck. This is actually much simpler than most guys make it out to be.

After you've been making out for a while, and you feel the time is right, simply stop, look at her with a soft and inviting smile on your face and ask, "do you feel like going someplace else?"

If She Says No: continue to make out with her just a few minutes more then, stop, look at her again and ask, "do you like me?" (credit to Maniac and his astute insight into chick logic for this) Of course she is going to say yes, but don't wait for further explanations. Just immediately go RIGHT back to making out for another few minutes and then proceed to ask question #1 again.

If she says no again, she is more than likely showing her display of token resistance as the girl who will not "fuck on the first night." Relax, go back to what you were doing, and just let things lie for the time being. You'll nail her the next time you go out, if not that night from an unexpected surprise.

If She Says Yes: Smile warmly, Kiss her again, briefly, for reassurance, then take her hand and lead her out of the club/restaurant to your car/her car, whatever. If you've met there and you have two vehicles, and she wants to take her own, that's fine. In fact she is NOT going to follow you to your place unless she has something very serious on her mind. Otherwise, just opt to take her in your car. On the ride over, be SURE to maintain the kino. (inside information: kino, obviously, only needs to be maintained while she is IN your presence, hence, taking two separate vehicles does not apply because she can do very good at fantasizing on her own if you are not there to observe or lead her). Hold her hand. When you stop at red light and signs, KISS her passionately for the few seconds you have.

It is important NOT to verbally say too much at this point. Just enjoy the closeness of her proximity and say what you want mostly with kino and physical touch. Keep your arm around her, if possible, and close to you, snuggling her. She knows what's going to happen and nothing more need be said.

Kino: Use IT, or lose it.

CHAPTER FIFTEEN: The K.O. Script.

The Most Powerful Pattern You Will Ever Use With A Woman

Note: Before you delve into this pattern, it would serve you VERY well to go over the appendix sections on presuppositions

The K.O. Script

First rough-drafted 3 years ago, I originally call this script the "eliminator" for the fact that it "eliminated" all of a chick's resistance to getting connected with you.

Another interesting point about this script is, not only did I want to eliminate all of a chick's resistance to getting hooked on you, but also to firmly SOLIDIFY the response that the initial part of the script invokes.

And last but not least, it was my intention to use all the very POWERFUL and PERSUASIVE elements of automatic influence as outlined by Robert Cialdini in his book, Influence. In short, I wanted it to be a MEGA script that would have the highest probability of getting most ANY suggestible chick completely fascinated on the guy who used it.

PREREQUISITES:

For this script/pattern to be effective on a chick and to get the results you surely can depend on, you must FIRST evaluate the kind of chick you plan to use it with (as should be the case when using ANY type of NLP or SS with a chick). Directly and succinctly stated: THIS SCRIPT WILL NOT WORK ON AIRHEADS AND BIMBOS!

There has to be at least SOME gray-matter holding her ears apart in order for her to be suggestible. As an initial test, I usually do the following. Take the chick through a little scenario of some pleasant experience in her life. Ask her, "Can you remember a time that you went somewhere, or took some time off for a really great vacation or getaway?" More than likely she'll say yes. Now ask her something like, "What were some of the most memorable events of that vacation, can you describe some in detail?"

LISTEN TO HER VERBAL LANGUAGE AND WATCH HER NON-VERBAL RESPONSES.

Watch to see just how much her whole physiology might change. Let her describe the experience. Generally, the more details she provides about that experience, the better. Now lock on to a particular part of the experience she describes, one which seemed to take place at a peak emotional level, and ask her if she could alter that part of the experience in some way.

For example, if she said "well I was just lying there on the beach with my eyes closed, and the sun was so warm and it was just so relaxing," ask her if she could actually imagine hearing soft footsteps in the sand moving towards her. She looks up to see a handsome and friendly male stranger standing there. He asks her if he may sit down to have a stimulating conversation with her and ask her about her life, and the two of them end up chatting and laughing and having the best time.

WATCH AND LISTEN TO HER RESPONSES

What you are looking for is HOW WELL she follows along with your words and suggestions. Does she take to it readily? Can she imagine it easily? Or does she say something like "what are you talking about!"

The nature of suggestibility is that one will TAKE IN new information, evaluate it and then, later, decide for themselves if they want to keep that information or discard it. The key words are TAKE IN.

SUGGESTIBLE DOES NOT MEAN GULLIBLE.

So the all important point is to WATCH how well she will take in the information and mentally follow along with what you are saying.

You must be ONE ON ONE with a chick in using this script. Don't even THINK of using it in the noisy club or bar or around all of her/your friends where there are ten thousand distractions.

Although you don't have to be an NLP master, the only other real prerequisite for using this script is that you should have a very good understanding of how criteria and values are elicited and how to EFFECTIVELY pace and backtrack those values or criteria. Virtually NOTHING can work as a defense against someone strongly leveraging your own criteria.

This script assumes that you have recently met a chick. You have developed a degree of rapport and are having a good conversation.

Let's look at the entire script and then later analyze it piece by piece.

The Knock-Out Script/Pattern

You know, it's funny how we're just two people <motion between the two of you> just two human beings on planet earth [in this world] who are looking for something special in life... just looking for happiness and to be fulfilled. And you know, so much of that often comes down to who we have in our life... who we choose to spend time with. With me...<sp> I sincerely believe that are special relationships can determine so much of what our happiness will be.

So I'm just curious... what is it that's important to you in a relationship? (emphasize you)

(At this point, elicit her deepest criteria for a relationship and REMEMBER the answers; strong phrases and trance words, it will be important later in the pattern! --- for the sake of this example let's say that her criteria for a relationship are trust ----> means total and complete commitment -----> means absolutely no boundaries or rules in a relationship -----> means true love).

Wow! The way you put that is so true and something about it just feels so right.

Look, do think you'd want to think of a hypothetical or just a pretend situation with me that might be sorta fun and interesting?

HER: Sure, what is it?

Ok, great. Do you think you could imagine a time in your future, you and I being together in some way?

HER: Yeah, I think I could imagine it.

Well, I'd like you to imagine for a moment that we're in the future, say six months or a year from now, and somehow we've managed to fall in love with each other... (slight chuckle and grin as if you know you're just pretending) and as we feel that sense of love... we know that what we have is just unrestricted... no rules... no boundaries... because as we're together <gesture between you and her> with that special love for each other... we know it's because there's such a total commitment there... a commitment for each other. Can you picture that as something that might be nice to have?

HER: Yes, it would probably be great.

I think so too! I know we're just pretending and all, but, as you continue to think about a future like that... maybe you could just see us doing all those special things together, and just knowing and feeling, deep inside... now, that we have that complete trust in a relationship? Do you know what I mean?

HER: Yes, definitely!

Well, again, I'm just curious about something. If we really did feel this way about each other in the future (express the words really did as if implying facetious doubt) and you were to look back at today <tap hand or finger on table-top or whatever> as having been the start of all that... I'm just wondering... what was the very first thing that caused you to feel this way? Was it something you saw, heard or felt?

HER: Hmmm, well it was something I heard I think. It was the sound of your voice and what you said kinda.

Great. Ok, so after you heard that voice, what was the very next thing you experienced that caused you to feel this way? Something you saw or felt, or maybe heard again?

HER: No.. I saw you look at me in a certain way, it just let me knew somehow that this was all happening...

Really!... must have been a pretty unique and special look as you think about it <grin> So you heard me say these things in a certain way... and then I looked at you in a special way.... so, if anything, was there a very next thing that you might have heard, saw or felt which gives you this feeling, now, as you think of that?

HER: Hmmm... no, not really... at that point I just FELT that I knew it was all for real!

(at this point her strategy for reaching her deepest criteria has been met and you need go no further unless she has not yet reach the state. Remember that her strategy for this is A - V - K (auditory, visual, kinesthetic. Remember that at this point she is DEEPLY in state. Now you need to SOLIDIFY and future pace the state)

Well, now, if you were to imagine that you were at a perfect place... like your ideal dream spot...just the perfect place where we were together in that special way....and you know how everybody talks about the 15 minutes of fame...only this is a LIFETIME of fame...

And in this special place... this is like YOUR special moment... almost as if all the eyes of the world are upon you... you know... almost like an event that is so rare and so famous that EVERYBODY goes to see it.... like maybe a famous musical or a play on Broadway... and all the fans that go there just know EVERYTHING about this play... because they've seen it so many times... and dreamed about it so many times... about wishing they could be in it... only this is YOUR play... YOUR moment... and you can just hear all those fans applauding and saying "go for it, go for it!"... as you see all the expressions on their faces... and their looks of admiration and wonder...and you get that feeling that you KNOW this is it.... this is the event... this is what you've been looking for!
And life has been so good to you in offering you this thing you've been searching for for so long, that you feel you just want to give yourself and your heart to the situation.
It's like one of those things that could happen maybe once... maybe if you were REALLY lucky... maybe twice at the most in a lifetime, because it's so rare and so scarce.

Because you know how you've probably always thought to yourself... that you always go for the great opportunities.... that when ever a great opportunity comes up...you know you want to go for it... and you've always thought that and always known that. And this just FEELS like one of those opportunities!

(End Pattern)

Ok, let's analyze the pattern piece by piece:

[You know, it's funny how we're just two people <motion between the two of you> just two human beings on planet earth [in this world] who are looking for something special in life... just looking for happiness and to be fulfilled.]

This is known as the Agreement Frame. It moves both you and her and the situation to a higher, more global, logical level. What is being said is so universal, that it can only be perceived as true and it establishes an instantaneous air of agreement for the rest of the pattern.

[And you know, so much of that often comes down to who we have in our life... who we choose to spend time with. With me...<sp> I sincerely believe that are special relationships can determine so much of what our happiness will be.]

Again, things that are almost universally true. Also links you with the idea of "special people in our lives." 'Special people' being equated with a degree of benefit and happiness in her life and sets the idea for "special relationships."

[So I'm just curious... what is it that's important to you in a relationship? (emphasize you)]

The start of eliciting her criteria for a relationship. This is a VERY important step, as not only will it GIVE you the roadmap of what a relationship is to her, if done right, it will foster a PROFOUND sense of connection and rapport simply by her having to GO INSIDE AND ANSWER THE QUESTIONS. She has probably NEVER had a man talk to her like this before and you will GREATLY stand out in her mind as being able to provoke a very powerful emotional response in her. This deep sense of rapport with smoothly pave the way for the rest of the pattern.

[Wow! The way you put that is so true and something about it just feels so right.

Look, do think you'd want to think of a hypothetical or just a pretend situation with me that might be sorta fun and interesting?]

This sets her up for the 'As If' frame and further prepares her to be time distorted, an EXTREMELY powerful technique for getting around resistance. There is no worry on her part, as it's all "just pretend" :)

[HER: Sure, what is it?

Ok, great. Do you think you could imagine a time in your future, you and I being together in some way?

HER: Yeah, I think I could imagine it.

Well, I'd like you to imagine for a moment that we're in the future, say six months or a year from now, and somehow we've managed to fall in love with each other... (slight chuckle and grin as if you know you're just pretending) and as we feel that sense of love... we know that what we have is just unrestricted... no rules... no boundaries... because as we're together <gesture between you and her> with that special love for each other... we know it's because there's such a total commitment there... a commitment for each other. Can you picture that as something that might be nice to have?

HER: Yes, it would probably be great.

I think so too! I know we're just pretending and all, but, as you continue to think about a future like that... maybe you could just see us doing all those special things together, and just knowing and feeling, deep inside... now, that we have that complete trust in a relationship? Do you know what I mean?

HER: Yes, definitely!]

Man, this is great! Now you've got her time distorted into the future, seeing you and her in the perfect relationship, and not only that, you are TYING IN all of HER CRITERIA to this wonderful situation IN THE FUTURE! And it's all done in the "safety" of being merely a hypothetical situation! By PLACING her in the future, in her mind, she has ALREADY CIRCUMVENTED the resistance which might have otherwise stopped her!

[Well, again, I'm just curious about something. If we really did feel this way about each other in the future (express the words really did as if implying facetious doubt) and you were to look back at today <tap hand or finger on table-top or whatever> as having been the start of all that... I'm just wondering... what was the very first thing that caused you to feel this way? Was it something you saw, heard or felt?

HER: Hmmm, well it was something I heard I think. It was the sound of your voice and what you said kinda.

Great. Ok, so after you heard that voice, what was the very next thing you experienced that caused you to feel this way? Something you saw or felt, or maybe heard again?

HER: No.. I saw you look at me in a certain way, it just let me knew somehow that this was all happening...

Really!... must have been a pretty unique and special look as you think about it <grin> So you heard me say these things in a certain way... and then I looked at you in a special way.... so, if anything, was there a very next thing that you might have heard, saw or felt which gives you this feeling, now, as you think of that?

HER: Hmmm... no, not really... at that point I just FELT that I knew it was all for real!]

Man! This is almost TOO wicked! Many of you probably recognize this as running her strategy. Running a person's strategy will effectively PUT them in the target state...only this is with a twist. We are RUNNING her strategy from the perspective of the future, where it has ALREADY happened, and she is now having to figure out exactly what GOT HER THERE.

Notice that almost EVERY question is in the PAST TENSE! This helps to SOLIDIFY the fact. And if that weren't enough, the very ACT of her having to figure out her own process PRESUPPOSES that there is clear-cut way to get from "here" to "there!" This presupposes in her mind that she CAN do it and literally figures out her OWN WAY to make it a REALITY!

[Well, now, if you were to imagine that you were at a perfect place... like your ideal dream spot...just the perfect place where we were together in that special way....and you know how everybody talks about the 15 minutes of fame...only this is a LIFETIME of fame... And in this special place... this is like YOUR special moment... almost as if all the eyes of the world are upon you... you know... almost like an event that is so rare and so famous that EVERYBODY goes to see it.... like maybe a famous musical or a play on Broadway... and all the fans that go there just know EVERYTHING about this play... because they've seen it so many times... and dreamed about it so many times... about wishing they could be in it... only this is YOUR play... YOUR moment... and you can just hear all those fans applauding and saying "go for it, go for it!"... as you see all the expressions on their faces... and their looks of admiration and wonder...and you get that feeling that you KNOW this is it.... this is the event... this is what you've been looking for! And life has been so good to you in offering you this thing you've been searching for for so long, that you feel you just want to give yourself and your heart to the situation. It's like one of those things that could happen maybe once... maybe if you were REALLY lucky... maybe twice at the most in a lifetime, because it's so rare and so scarce.

Because you know how you've probably always thought to yourself... that you always go for the great opportunities.... that when ever a great opportunity comes up...you know you want to go for it... and you've always thought that and always known that. And this just FEELS like one of those opportunities!]

This is what cinches it all. Notice that every one of Cialdini's principles is applied here in some way. The last part about "thinking about how you go for opportunities" appeals to her sense of consistency with her own beliefs. And the idea of people going after rare opportunities is such a truism, that almost EVERYBODY has them.

The "fans" at the special and rare event are set up as authorities in "knowing everything about the play." And the social consensus comes about from all of these intelligent fans agreeing that she should "go for it!"

The event in itself is scarce and rare. Probably a once in a lifetime thing. Rare events are something perceived as valuable and opportunities that should NOT BE MISSED.

Finally, she wants to give her heart to the "situation" because she has been given an opportunity that is so rare, that it may never be given again. Reciprocity.

And if she doesn't LIKE you by now, something would be seriously wrong :)

A Few Words Of Warning:

This pattern, as you can obviously see, is VERY intense. It is IMPERATIVE that everything you say and do be very softened and gentle and that you take care to see that rapport is absolutely maintained throughout this pattern.

I have been using and refining this pattern for the past 3 years. It's what I pull out of the hat when I want to get a VERY powerful and lasting response. And it has done so with STARTLING frequency.

The best way to close this pattern, as I have found in MOST cases, is to simply CHANGE the subject a bit after you're through. You can close by simply exchanging phone numbers and telling her that you'll call after some additional fluff talk.

Give it about 2 to 3 days and DO NOT call. SHE WILL PROBABLY BE CALLING YOU. Remember that this pattern is designed to create an INTENSE feeling of connection, love, understanding, sameness, etc. Probably MORE intense than any other guy has been able to do for her before! So beware of obsessive chicks!

During the second meet/encounter you can, of course, start laying in the sexual accelerators which should be relatively EASY considering this setup. Revivify the experience and then lay in the sex stuff. You might want to elicit for QUALITIES in a boyfriend on seconds.

I would use this pattern with a degree of discretion and integrity. And be careful what you wish for, you may just get stuck with it!

Appendix A: Seduction, Step by Step Outline and reference

Beliefs.

You do what you do because it will help women get what THEY want, thereby getting you what YOU want. A Win-Win Situation!

Beliefs will determine how you perceive new input, information or ideas.

Beliefs will ultimately determine your attitude. Your attitude will be perceived by women. Your attitude will account for a great deal of your success.

He Who Sets The Best Frame Wins!

Setting The Frame:

1. What is the context of the conversation; relationship; seduction; exchange?
 - a. The frame is set such that the woman must accept the frame as true to continue to interact with you.
 - b. The frame is set such that that any strong disagreement/objection to your ideas would be considered either rude or ignorant (an undesirable breaking of rapport).
 - c. The frame is set such that anything which might be suggested by you would be perceived as natural and acceptable.
 - d. The frame should be set such that you are either immediately or ultimately perceived as the leader. (Crucial!)

Rapport

Pacing and Leading:

1. Without rapport, nothing is possible. With rapport, anything becomes possible.
2. Gaining Rapport: Sameness, alignment and agreement is the essence of rapport.
 - a. Pace: trance-words; phrases;
 - b. Speech: pitch; tempo; inflections
 - c. Physiology - mirror and match: breathing rate; gestures, facial expressions; body postures; movements (remember to start with a lag time, 3 secs, zeroing out the lag time with progression; begin leading when appropriate).
 - d. Psychological: ideas; sentiments; feelings (expound upon using their patterns when possible (paraphrasing and backtracking of their ideas and thoughts in a context of agreement)). NOTE: Be cautious when pacing values, ideas and perceptions, especially if the idea in question is negative in nature. Be CERTAIN that the idea or perception is a core belief (ongoing and legitimate) before pacing it.
3. In all rapport, remember who's in charge!

In every area a seduction, especially rapport, always remember Cialdini's 6 principles of automatic influence:

 - 1 - Liking (sameness) - Others will want to interact with those whom they like.
 - 2- Social Proof - Everyone else believes/does it... I should believe/do it too.
 - 3- Authority - If this profession/expert says it's okay, it must be ok!
 - 4- Commitment and Consistency - I want to be perceived as stable and decisive.
 - 5- Reciprocity - Returning a kind favor is the socially correct thing to do.
 - 6- Scarcity - Anything which is rare or short-lived, MUST be valuable!

--- Also keep in mind the CONTRAST principle - Any given event/thing will be perceived differently according to what comes before it or what surrounds it. (Also related to FRAMES, above).

--- The word "Because" - Relates to cause & effect language/logic/beliefs.
"We should do this because...."

Criteria

Establishing what a woman's core values and perceptions are for any given topic.

1. Maneuvering to ask the question first:
 - a. Setting up a context or frame in which it would be natural or even expected of you to ask the question.

2. Asking the question properly:

X = relationship, boyfriend, experience, sexual experience, etc.

a. "What's important to you about 'X'?"

1. Agree
2. Soften
3. Backtrack

X ---> Y

"What's important to you about 'Y'?"

-- Steps a. 1-3 above --

Y ---> Z

"And ultimately, what's important about 'Z'?"

Z ---> U (for Ultimate)

"What would 'U' give you/make you feel?" (reinforcement)

3. Feedback of criteria and linking:

a. "Me, what I can do, who I am = U, Z, and Y." (Her Criteria)

4. Alternates:

a. "What do you feel/think is [absolutely] necessary about/in 'X'?"

b. "What do you consider to be most valuable about/regarding 'X'?"

c. "What would be most fulfilling to you regarding/about 'X'?"

--- Follow steps 2-a above ---

Presuppositions.

Presupposing that something will/is happening or is assumed to be true.

1. Presuppositions of Awareness

- a. aware
- b. realize
- c. experience
- d. (understand)

1. "As you become aware, Christine, of all the fulfilling aspects of our relationship, you can realize [just] how important all those aspects are to you. [Do you understand what I mean?]" (reinforcement - search for understanding the proper meaning of the communication and redirection - Presupposition: do you understand what you are now aware of and realize?)

2. Adverb/Adjective presuppositions - Presupposes anything said after them to be true.

- a. naturally

- b. easily
- c. comfortably
- d. quickly, etc.

1. “Naturally and easily, Christine, you can find yourself comfortably feeling good about us getting to know each other in such a profound and special way.” [How positively does really knowing this affect you?] (redirection - Presupposition: How positively does knowing this information to be true, affect you?)

Cause and Effect Language

Cause and effect language is the language of logic... is the language of beliefs.

1. Women organize/structure their beliefs in the form of cause and effect, usually with the causal linking word of ‘because’ or its equivalent.

- a. Belief = “I believe learning seduction is good.”
- b. A belief is logically linked to a reason which enforces and/or justifies the belief.
 - 1. There are always two parts to a belief. The belief itself and the cause of the belief.
- c. “I believe seduction is good” ---> because ---> “I’ll be able to get more of what I want in life.”
- d. “Learning about seduction allows me to get more of what I want in life.”

2. Speaking in cause and effect language.

- a. Speaking in terms of cause and effect minimizes a woman's resistance because it sounds logical. (an example in itself)
 - 1. “Listening to what is that I’m saying causes you to... become even more interested in what I might say next.”
 - 2. As you realize the good points of our relationship Christine, it can allow you to become aware of just how much better it will continue to become and that would naturally cause you to feel really good about us being together. [modal operator - ‘can’]

Binds

Binds leave the woman no choice and have the effect of “false choice.”

1. Single binds - Presuppose the desired action/event while redirecting attention to (usually) a question which is irrelevant to the desired action/event.

- a. “Would you like to get a fresh cup of coffee while I put on some soft music?”

b. "Would you like to have another rum&coke before we go someplace where we can be alone?"

c. Should we stop by my place before or after we go to dinner?" [Temporal/Numeral operative]

2. Double Binds - Gives the woman an option between two "choices" which lead to the same outcome. (operative word, 'or')

a. "Would you like to go back to my place to check out my photo collection, or would you rather just cuddle up on the couch and watch a good movie?"

b. "Would you like to make an offer on the house this week, or just give me what your bottom-line offer will be before Saturday?"

c. "Should I just spend the night at your place, or wait until tomorrow morning to leave when the time is better?" {laugh}

3. Hidden Double Binds - Mask or "fog" the double bind with additional language and redirecting focus of attention, usually with a question. Also makes use of additional initial Presupposition.

a. "I'm not sure if you'd rather go on that vacation we've been talking about, or just go on a luxurious and relaxing cruise, either way, the important thing is that we both get the time off that we need. Does that sound/look/feel good to you?"

b. I only know that most people in a situation like this would just prefer to spend the night with each other, or just have a good time together all night long in each other's company, but what's really important is that we make it an awesome experience that we'll always remember in a wonderful way! Does this sound desirable to you, or just extremely exciting? [bind within a bind in the midst of redirection. Also implies social-proof 'most people' and invokes Lost Performative]

Appendix B - Presuppositions:

A Crash Course On Presuppositions

Presuppositions Reference

Presuppositions can be very, very powerful when used in seduction. As you begin to master presuppositions, and how they work, you'll automatically see your seductive abilities begin to EXPLODE with power and effectiveness! It could be said that presuppositions are the very heart of seductive language

Presuppositions are extremely useful because they get a woman to accept what we say as true and natural without so much as thinking about it!

Presuppositions do one basic thing. They allow our ideas, suggestions or commands to slip into a woman's mind easily with very little resistance. There are many different forms of presuppositions. Study them carefully!

Presuppositions:

1. Adjectives and Adverbs of Opinion

Both these will often be found in presuppositional forms of speech. These are words that modify or qualify the primitive form of what is being said, and since they are words selected by the speaker to reflect the speaker's perception of events, will often reveal some of the assumptions the speaker is making. Adjectives modify nouns - the speaker's perception of 'things', whereas adverbs modify verbs - and reveal the way in which the speaker perceives/assumes action, the manner in which events occur(ed).

Adjectives and adverbs which describe what would normally be agreed as 'absolutes', or fact, usually fall into the 'fair' category insofar as evaluating the nature of a presupposition is concerned: the ones the listener should be particularly aware of are the words which describe relativity, generality or manner. This is illustrated in the examples that follow:

a. The woman in the purple dress behaved badly.

[assumptions are that there was a woman in a purple dress who behaved in some manner and that manner was 'bad'. Few would argue with the adjective 'purple' - either the dress was purple or not as a matter of agreed 'fact': the problems occur with the adverb 'badly': good and bad are relative and matters of opinion]

b. The ugly woman in the ugly purple dress behaved badly.

[as given previously - but in this case we have an additional value judgment in the adjective implying beauty/ugliness]

c. You were seen leaving the bank shouting wildly and running at breakneck speed. [implies you were in the bank, someone claims to have seen you leave, you were shouting and running at speed. Further suggests, by adverb and adjective 'wildly' and 'breakneck' - both opinions added to the 'fact']

d. When you had cruelly satisfied your evil, perverted, lusts on this helpless, innocent victim, you callously ignored her whimpering pleas for mercy, didn't you?

[cruelly/evil/perverted/callously versus helpless/innocent/whimpering: all opinion, painted in adjective and adverb. Hopefully, you've got a good defense lawyer]

e. I am completely satisfied with your performance over the past twelve months. [the manner of the satisfaction - 'complete' is specified by the speaker. In this case, the adverb 'completely' is an absolute and is used fairly]

Adverb/Adjective category

We'll start with the Adverb/Adjective pattern. Here's a strategy for beginning to easily and naturally use these words effectively:

NOTE: To use Adverb/Adjective Presuppositions powerfully, always put the presupposition words before what you want them to do.

Another key to remember: when you use three presupposition words in the sentence before what you want them to do, their mind cannot go back. This is to say, their unconscious mind will just accept it as true in order to make sense of what you are saying, and they will act on it.

"You can already begin immediately to understand some of the many ways that us being together will make you fee incredibly fulfilled!"

NOTE: Everything that follows one of these words is presupposed in the sentence.

Here are some examples:

- 1. Have you already discovered how easily you can make the decision to ask your friends to volunteer their help to elect (your candidate), or refer your friends to our company?
- 2. Have you asked yourself if the unlimited potential of this information is what is making you so excited NOW?
- 3. Have you naturally discovered how seductive you are already becoming?
- 4. Many people begin naturally, Stephanie, to create an idea of doing this just prior to making the decision to go ahead with it.
- 5. Naturally, you will find more than enough reasons to go ahead today when you understand even a little bit of what I say next.

1. You have probably started to become aware of some of the many easily activated yet powerful ways you can readily use this information.

2. Naturally, the most readily available and, more importantly, competent person to deal with is me.

3. Finally, the most reliably accurate system of persuasion is within your grasp.

4. Have you asked yourself recently how many services your present provider (or whomever) should be providing but is not?

5. Since I brought that up, does it make you wonder how much more you could be getting when you buy (or whatever) from us?

2. Relative Clauses: WHO, WHICH, THAT.

A noun, or phrase ending with a noun, which is followed a phrase beginning with one of these words. The existence of the noun is presupposed.

a. Your accomplice, WHO we have yet to capture... [implies you have an accomplice - i.e. accomplice exists and you are implicated: the assumed accomplice is still at large]

b. We have the axe, WHICH you used as the weapon... [we have 'the' axe - 'axe' exists: note that it is 'the' and not 'an', yet another assumption about a specific axe - which it is assumed was used as a weapon by you]

c. We have recovered the car THAT you used in the getaway. [a car, that has been 'recovered': specific 'car' is assumed to exist and is assumed to have been used, by you, in an assumed getaway]

3. Time Clauses

A versatile set. These can readily be arranged to contain implication - every 'before' implies an 'after' in a sequence of actual ongoing (or assumed ongoing) events - and are demonstrated by means of example below. By now, the reader should easily be able to extract the assumptions, hence little commentary is provided - the patterns are shown in quotes.

a. AFTER: What will you do 'AFTER you give up housebreaking'?

[implies you are currently engaged in housebreaking]

b. BEFORE: What did you do 'BEFORE you became a bank robber'? [implies you are now a bank robber & that you did something else previously]

c. DURING: 'DURING the robbery', did you not think of your victim? ['during' - plus the trailing phrase - implies you were involved and victimized someone, etc.]

d. PRIOR: Tell us what you were doing immediately 'PRIOR to robbing the bank'. [etc.]

e. SINCE: Have your feelings of guilt subsided 'SINCE you stopped beating your wife'?

f. WHEN: What will you do with your time 'WHEN you are in prison'?

g. WHILE: What were you doing 'WHILE your accomplices were stealing the money'?

So much for the first set in this category. The second set - and a double dose of examples is presented since this is a powerful and flexible form - are a little subtler and more directed at double binds, personal feelings and (often vague) ongoing experiences. Accordingly, because they are more difficult to decode, they appear to be slightly more convoluted in form. One or two fuller explanatory notes are offered:

h. Would you like to take your shoes off 'WHILE you unwind'?
[double bind - the action of unwinding is implied with shoes on or not: note, as an aside, that 'unwind' is a non specific term]

i. How do you think you are going to react 'DURING your realization' that you are free of guilt?

j. Would you like a whisky or a gin BEFORE you go to bed?
[double bind: you are going to bed whichever drink is chosen]

k. I hope it will make you happy 'WHEN we go to the Zoo'.

l. 'AFTER you have calmed down and come to your senses', we'll discuss the implications of all this. [you are going to calm down, etc.]

m. I don't know what you were thinking of 'PRIOR to sitting down here relaxing with me', but now you have calmed down, I'd like to talk about it.

n. 'SINCE you've accepted my opinion on this', I'd like you to explore the issues further PRIOR to you signing a confession. [you have accepted the speaker's opinion: you are going to sign a confession]

4. Words Indicating Repetition

ALSO, AGAIN, BACK, EITHER, TOO, LAST

These words may be used to imply that an event is/has already happening/happened and is being/can be repeated.

a. You can do what Tom is doing TOO [implies that something is ongoing and you have the ability to do whatever it is]

b. I'd like you to go over your confession AGAIN.

[you've already confessed at least once: even if you haven't 'confessed', the implication is that what you have done is being defined as a confession]

c. EITHER you got it wrong last time, or you've got it wrong now. [there exists a 'last time' which it is assumed should be identical to the present, and there is something assumed that is 'right']

d. If you answer incorrectly AGAIN then you'll be in trouble. [implies you have answered 'incorrectly' before - whether you did or not, the assumption is that you did]

5. Use of the Definite Article

This is the form often used in the 'leading question' so beloved of courtroom dramas. By using a definite article - typically 'the' although there are other ways, it is implied that a particular object or actions had or has existence.

a. What was your reaction when you saw the jigsaw?

[implies that you saw a PARTICULAR jigsaw and you had a reaction to it]

b. What did you do when you saw the defendant rob the bank with the shotgun? [implies you saw particular person at particular bank with particular shotgun - i.e. that the 'defendant' did as implied - and that you did something in response]

c. Which of the three defendants pulled the trigger?

[one of them is implied to have done so]

d. I want you to take charge of the project and sort out the trouble makers. [the specific identity of the project is assumed to be common knowledge between speaker and listener - as is that of 'the' trouble makers, whose existence is implied]

e. Go down to the stores and fetch three welding masks.

[three welding masks are assumed to exist in the stores: this is also an Ordinal]

Numeral type presupposition

6. Verbs and Adverbs Indicating Repetition of Event(s)

Those beginning with RE-. REpeatedly, REpeating, REstore, REplicate, REtell, REplace, RENew, REiterate, REstate, REwork, RE-establish and so on.

- a. I am pleased to RENew our acquaintance.
[speaker assumes 'we' have been acquainted before]
- b. You are going to have to do something to REstore my confidence in you.
[I once had confidence in you]
- c. If she RETurns, I want to talk to her.
[Implies she has been here before]

7. Change of Time Verbs and Adverbs

ALREADY, BEGIN/BEGUN, END, STOP, START, STARTED, CONTINUE, YET, STILL

These words are often used to imply that some kind of ongoing process is in place - even though it isn't: because of the implicative nature of the words, the inference will more often than not slip past the listener's attention. In the examples below these look easy to detect owing to the capitalization - in the real world, they aren't.

a. I wonder whether or not you understand that you can CONTINUE to feel comfortable and relaxed. [the implicit assumption is that you already have been feeling comfortable and relaxed]

b. Now you have STARTED/BEGUN to see the sense of what I'm saying, we might be able to get somewhere. ['sense' is assumed and it is implied that the listener is already seeing it]

d. I want you to STOP looking at things from that angle, and reconsider. [implies that you are already 'looking at things' from some angle]

e. The way to END your discomfort is to confess. [ongoing discomfort assumed: assertion that confession will end it]

Some Quantifiers

(ALL, EACH, EVERY, SOME, FEW, MANY, NONE)

Each* of us has talent that others don't have and each of us

3. Cause and Effect

(Statements that claim that there is a cause and effect relationship between one thing and another thing)

a) Coming to this seminar will cause you to begin to understand communication and begin to make changes in all areas of your life.

b) Now that we have realized that you have a communications problem we can begin the work to solve it.

c) Studying the world's greatest communicators has led to a model that can be easily transferred to others, NLP.

Being on this task force will help you learn all about communication.

Your being here means that you really want to learn.

Your completing this assignment allows you to feel exceptionally good.

1. Sitting there causes you to completely absorb what I am saying. And, as you completely absorb it, it will cause you to immediately accept it at the deepest levels.

2. Thinking your next thought causes you to agree with me that you need to really master this material.

3. Simply saying that excuse causes you to understand why you already don't believe it.

Implied Cause and Effect

1. As you learn this pattern and start to use it well, you will have a certain sense of accomplishment.

2. As you start to assimilate this information, you will instantly begin to find ways to use it.

3. NOW, as the realization begins to sink in of how easily, rapidly and efficiently your profits will go up as a result of using my help, naturally, you'll get more and more excited!
